Debate lingers over Ladner's arrest

Constable: No political motivation, but politics do bog down process

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

Now more than a week after the Hancock County District

One school board member Christopher "Packer" Ladner was arrested, speculation on his arrest is still a hot topic.

Ladner was arrested before the board meeting on July 7 by Hancock County Constable Terry Necaise on for failing to pay a balance of $390.50 on a 2001 DUI fine, and driving with a suspended license.

Ladner said that his failure to pay the fine was an honest mistake.

"I forgot to pay the fine," he said. "I will pay it. It must have slipped my mind. When I go to court, I'm going to do whatever it takes to resolve this issue."

According to Ronnie Cuevas, chief administrator for the Hancock County Sheriff's

A Hancock County Deputy Sheriff's vehicle was stolen when he responded to a suspicious person complaint around 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, according to Patrol Captain Joe Herrin.

Case Investigator Tom Roan said, "Glenn Fayard, 52, of Hancock County, was arrested and charged with one count of felony motor vehicle taking, one count of aggravated assault of a police officer, and two counts of simple assault of police officers."

"Deputy Tim Campbell responded to the call, saw the suspect and chased him around a house in the neighborhood, subdued him, and then the suspect escaped from the officer and gained possession of his vehicle. He locked the doors and tried to run over the deputy," Roan reported.

Roan continued, "A Hancock County

Decorate cupcakes at library program

Children are urged to come to the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library on Thursday, July 21 at 6 p.m. for a cupcake decorating program with Kathy Chase Young, author of The Gift.

The Gift is about tradition and culture, teaching families the importance of family time. The book tells of a secret recipe and how it is handed down through the years.

Young is an early childhood educator who has devoted the past sixteen years to providing positive learning experiences for young children. In addition, she has contributed to the professional development of their current and future teachers through classroom instruction, continuing education training, and workshop presentations. She has developed a series of children's books and is currently authoring a classroom cooking curriculum.

'Space Monkeys' land at the StenniSphere Visitor's Center

Become a member of "Terra Space Command" when StenniSphere, the visitor center at NASA's Stennis Space Center (SSC), presents "Searching for Space Monkeys." The rock 'n' roll musical will take its audience on an exciting, interactive intergalactic journey honoring the first animals in space—monkeys.

Members of the WINGS performing arts troupe from Lynn Meadows Discovery Center in Gulfport will present selected scenes and songs from "Searching for Space Monkeys" on Wednesday, July 20, at 10:30 a.m. in the auditorium of StenniSphere.

The musical is set in the year 2700 A.D., when the crew of Odyssey must journey through hostile space to planet Ark. There, they encounter beings evolved from ancient animal astronauts: space monkeys. All animal life on Earth has become extinct due to the destruction of the environment and atomic warfare. The inhabitants of Ark have the antibodies that can cure the outbreak of the E-nigma virus on Earth. Capt. Remo and his crew of humans and androids encounter alien life forms on their journey. Eventually they meet Guardian, who shares the secret of life and the truth that we all need each other. Biloxi native and Apollo 13 Astronaut Fred Haise will make a cameo appearance via video. Veteran professional actor Bobby Steele stars in the show.

The performers are dedi-

Michaela Moore (front, left), Gillian Williford, Shannon Wooten; along with Wesley Sykes (back), Aubrey Hays and Melissa Whitfield portray members of the Terra Space Command on an intergalactic journey "Searching for Space Monkeys," presented by the WINGS Performing Arts Program of the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center in Gulfport. The group will present selected scenes and songs from the rock 'n' roll musical on Wednesday, July 20, at 10:30 a.m. in the auditorium of StenniSphere, the visitor center at NASA's Stennis Space Center (SSC).

cating this show to the crew of Space Shuttle Discovery, scheduled to launch this summer on NASA's Return to Flight mission to the International Space Station.

Directed by Becky Rutz, the show is sponsored by Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College-Jefferson Davis Campus, performed in cooperation with the Mississippi Arts Commission, National Endowment for the Arts and MGM Mirage Voice Foundation.

SSC is located in Hancock County, Miss., near Bay St. Louis. StenniSphere offers free tours of America's largest rocket engine test complex. Tours to StenniSphere begin at the Launch Pad, located at the Mississippi Welcome Center, Interstate 10, Exit 2. All visitors age 18 and older must present a valid photo I.D., such as a driver's license or passport.

Safe Sitter babysitting offered July 20 at HMC

Five Hancock Medical Center nurses recently completed Safe Sitter training in New Orleans. Cindy Cressionnie, Karen Ladner, Martena Jamieson, Carol Milton and Kendra Watts are now qualified to teach the nationally recognized babysitting training program.

Safe Sitter (www.safesitter.org) is a medically accurate program that teaches 11-13 year-olds how to be safe, nurturing babysitters.

Dr. Patricia Keener, an Indianapolis, IN pediatrician, developed the Safe Sitter program in 1980 after a colleague's child choked to death while in the care of an adult sitter. The goal of the Safe Sitter program is to reduce the number of avoidable and unintentional deaths among children being cared for by babysitters.

To complete the program, students must pass a rigorous practical and written test to show they have mastered the key concepts and have the skills necessary to handle emergencies.

Hancock Medical Center will sponsor a Safe Sitter class Wednesday, July 20 from 8:30 until 3:30 (cost: $15) at the HMC Business and Education Complex. Call (228) 467-8727 for additional information or to register.

Deputy on Highway 603 spotted the missing deputy's vehicle and gave a controlled chase towards Kiln. At Kiln, officers placed stop sticks that punctured three tires and Fayard was apprehended and taken to Roan said the case was still under investigation and Fayard may face additional charges. Initially no bond was set on Fayard, according to jail records.

Protect your property!

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors is considering a zoning change for 5 acres of property at the end of Blue Meadow Rd. (boat yard property). The change would be from R1 (Single Family Residential) to WSUD (Waterfront Special Use District). This would allow the owners to put in 162 flats or town homes with 343 parking spaces & 162 boat slips. If we allow this to happen it will greatly affect the quality of life we enjoy all the way from Casino Magic Blvd. to the end of Blue Meadow Rd. and across the bayou. Just try to imagine the increase in traffic on the road and on the river.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

Hurricanes, tropical storms, thunderstorms, showers and hot temperatures seem to be the biggest topics of our area in recent weeks.

For sure, we have to keep our umbrellas very easy to reach, as we seem to have a show or two almost every day.

Usually this is the dry time of the year for us. It is almost like being in a tropical area.

On the bright side is the fact that lawns have been doing very well. The only problem some folks have is having their yards dry enough for the grass to be cut.

We have to be way ahead of our annual rainfall average for the year.

Hurricanes and tropical storms are setting all types of records for this early in the season.

Many of us hope that this trend will soon end, as one storm is not complete before one or two follow very closely.

One thing many people do not realize is the fact that tropical storms and hurricanes do not only have an effect on coastal areas.

Many are followed by causing serious rain storms, such as Cindy and Dennis have caused havoc in interior areas of the country.

Thursday evening from 5 to 7 p.m., the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Business After Hours will be sponsored by David Tumillo, DDS, at his office, 700 Dunbar Avenue, Bay St. Louis. The Chamber's After Hours is one of the highlights of the month, and gives members and guests an opportunity to greet old acquaintances, as well as make new friends.

The After Hours are open to chamber members and guests.

Be sure to bring along a couple business cards for there will be several door prizes. Oh yes! There will be snacks and refreshments too.

So, do not forget to make a note on your calendar about the After Hours Thursday evening.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is seeking candidates for the 2005-06 Leadership Hancock County Program.

Leadership Hancock County has had three classes thus far, 1996-97, 1977-98 and 2004-05. Also there was a Vision 2000 Program which involved a mixture of members from the first two programs.

The goal of the program is to provide Hancock County with a network of current and emerging leaders who possess the skills, and the sense of commitment to improve our community.

Participation is limited and interested individuals must submit an application to the Chamber Office by July 29, 2005 to be considered.

Tuition, for those selected is $350 per person, which included training sessions and instructional materials.

For further information, contact the chamber at 228-467-9048.

The Cost of Complacency is Too High

The terrorist bombings in London are a wake-up call - a reminder that complacency in the War on Terror could have disastrous and costly consequences, that terror's battlefields can be anywhere and its victims anyone. Our complacency is exactly what terrorists want, something to consider as the Senate debates the Homeland Security Appropriations Act.

To date, 34 Mississippi soldiers have lost their lives fighting terrorists. One of the toughest est things I do is call families of lost heroes to offer the condolences of a grateful nation and our state and to thank them for their loved one's service. I get emotional when I hear that a young Mississippian has died fighting terrorists. But then the realities of our tough, imperfect world set in, and I remind myself that there is good and evil and always will be. True leaders recognize and confront evil, then work to defeat it, preserving this nation just as our forebears did.

As a member of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, I received briefings after the London bombings. They made me think about what a nuclear, chemical or biological device could have done in place of those suicide bombs. None of us want to think about that, but, in fact, thousands of security professionals in the FBI, CIA and in local and state law enforcement try to plan for the worst every day. Their diligence has kept America free from terrorist attacks since 9/11, as has our soldiers in the field, putting an end to the Taliban and Saddam's weapons programs. Yet, we still have some obvious vulnerabilities.

For instance, as the chairman of the Senate's Surface Transportation Committee, I'm advocating a significant rethinking of America's port, rail and border security. These are three soft places that we must harden. Terrorists are surely looking for weaknesses in America's armor, and we must stay one step ahead of them.

As the Senate debates the Homeland Security Act, you'll probably see disagreement about how much federal money should be spent on security next year, even in these vulnerable areas. That's a typical political debate instead of the unpre-

THEY'RE KINDA STUBBORN. YOU JUST HAVE TO GET THEIR ATTENTION!

Letters to the Editor

Welcome to Hancock Communist County

After living here for 15 years, I have come to the conclusion that I have left the USA. Because when the Board of Supervisors can make laws and impose fines at any time they see fit to benefit either themselves or the casinos is just totally appalling.

What ever happened to our voting rights here in Hancock County. The Board of Supervisors have no right to pass anything without it being brought to a vote by the people of Hancock County. But again they don't care what we want. They want what will benefit them and their buddies, the casinos.

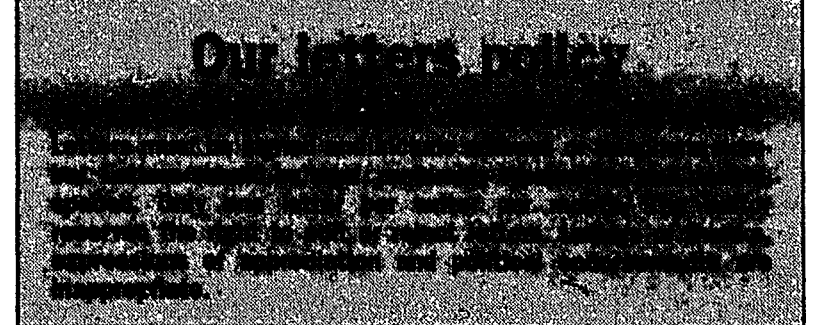

God help you if you own a mobile home in Hancock County. Because sooner or later they want you out of here. And the only that they want us to go is so someone will build an expensive home on you land so they can receive more tax money from all of us. I cannot see building a house for $100,000 to? Here in an area that not if but when a hurricane destroys it, it takes years to rebuild it.

And if you don't believe me just ask some one in Florida. If their house is done yet!

And many of them haven't even started rebuilding yet due to lack of materials or just that all of the contractors are too busy to start their homes yet. When I called Rusty Russell at Fleetwood Homes of Gulfport, I asked him if a major hurricane hit Hancock County after clean up is done how long would it take to replace a mobile home? He told me "that I could have a new home on your land in about 24 hours."

Let's see. 1-2 years to build yourself a new home if you can find a contractor to help you or 24 hours with the help of your friendly manufactured homes dealer. Now don't get me get me wrong about contractors in the area, I know many of them myself.

They do great work. But when you got 20,000 people that need their homes built, there just ain't enough con-

No 'obstructionists,' just 'protectionists'

As a member of Coastal Community Watch, I must point out the egregious nature of Jim Maness' July 7 accusations. For one, he describes our organization as obstructionist with an agenda of stopping all progress and growth on the coast.

How ludicrous. Had he taken the time to do his research, he would know that one of CCW's primary goals is to explore alternative development in the area. We have members assigned specifically to this task. We are also working with our state representative to introduce property tax reform in hopes of preventing people being ousted from their homes.

Obstructionist, Mr. Maness? Is that your term for folks who stand up to protect what they value? No matter, we understand why you feel you must attack us.

If we succeed in preventing our beautiful coastline from becoming another Gulf Shores, your acreage in the middle of the C4 zoned area won't be worth the millions you are undoubtedly counting on. Your agenda is quite obvious, Mr. Maness - blatant self-interest and personal profit, pure and simple.

You also state that "CCW has stopped progress and interfered in numerous developments along the coast." In fact, CCW was formed less than three months ago, specifically to oppose this very rezoning.

Granted, this situation constitutes a clash of values, and we respect your right to your own agenda. However, we would ask you to rise to the level of truth to wage your battle.

Lott -- Complacency

mented rethinking we need to stay one step ahead of terrorists. Security is measured by the effectiveness of the mechanism, not by money. Stopping terrorists mainly is the responsibility of leaders, law enforcement and citizens all being more alert and resisting complacency.

Clearly there are some in our midst waning in the War on Terror, yearning for complacency and partisan politics as usual. They're obsessing about things like the Patriot Act and Guantanamo, and fixated with the terrorist's psychological motives, their attention focused more on narrow political agendas rather than the terrorists' broad, indiscriminate and hideous actions. To those who believe that we should abandon the War on Terror, close down Guantanamo, withdraw from Iraq, talk to terrorists, try to "understand" them — history teaches otherwise.

I recall the last time an American President and British Prime Minister — both vastly different men from opposite ends of the political spectrum — were unified to fight evil. President Roosevelt, the classic liberal, and Winston Churchill, the old conservative war horse, didn't waste a lot of time debating political philosophy, the enemy's psyche or what other nations think. They, like all true statesmen, recognized evil and acted decisively to preserve freedom.

Today we remember Churchill as a great leader, but on the eve of World War II he was mocked. His reputation was tainted by a bloody military blunder at Gallipoli in World War I and what some considered his incessant and paranoid warnings about the new leader in Germany, Adolph Hitler. Britain and America in 1939 didn't want conflict but complacency. Hitler recognized and exploited that complacency. A shocked Britain, desperate for true leadership, grabbed its old war horse from the back bench of Parliament. Churchill's plan? To wage war by land, sea and air until the enemy was defeated. So it was. So it must be today. In the nuclear age, the cost of complacency is unthinkable.

Campers learn healthy food choices at HMC summer program

The second annual Healthy Kids Camp got off to a vigorous start June 27 at the Hancock County Civic Center. Twenty-six campers participated in the week-long program sponsored by Hancock Medical Center.

Staffed by HMC's school nurses and dietitian Dale Belham, the camp was established to instruct children on the life-long importance of a good diet, exercise and a healthy body image.

Daily topics included such activities and educational topics as healthy food choices, good hygiene, sun and water safety, dance instruction and circuit training. Campers learned peer pressure resistance techniques regarding alcohol, tobacco and other drug use.

Belham led the nutritional instruction during the camp. "We wanted to help the campers understand that eating right and making healthy food choices can taste good, too," she said.

Other activities throughout the week included a field trip to Stennis Space Center, bowling and skating.

Hannah Askew, 8, said the camp taught her many things she was surprised to learn. "The school nurses showed us the proper way to brush our teeth. We also learned tobacco contains chemicals that are found in fingernail polish remover."

"Healthy Kids Camp really makes the campers aware that the quality of their health throughout their lifetime depends on a good diet and increased physical activity," said Martena Jamieson, RN.

Also assisting at the camp were HMC athletic trainers, dance instructor Heather Cohen, officials from the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and volunteers from Partnership for a Healthy Hancock County, formerly known as PATH.

The third annual Healthy Kids Camp is planned for the summer of 2006. For more information on this program, contact Kendra Watts, RN at (228) 255-5200.

tractors. People need affordable homes that will suit their needs. Not the needs and wants of the Board of Supervisors.

First it was mobile homes, now its our freedom of choice of how some people like to listen to their music. How long until the Board decides it don't like vinyl siding and outlaw it. Myself, I think a brick home is ugly. But that's my choice.

Boy, I can't wait until they Board of Supervisors come up for election. Bad new board members many in the community have had enough of this madness. Our county has removed a dictator from power in Iraq and now the people of Hancock County will ban together and remove you all come election day. See ya!

Help free Hancock County. Enough is enough.

The days of August and the end of summer

(I wrote this two years ago. I think you will find it as apropos now as it was then.)

It's the 4th of July, the very hiatus of a new summer and light, cooling showers are sporadically moving in mists of opaque rain over the Sound.

Stella and I are on the end of Waveland's fishing pier. There are about twelve or so hardened fishermen around us, ignoring the brief sprinkles of rain, each working his/her limit of two poles and the conversation is fishing. Stella has borrowed a pole from one of the men and is busy casting out her line.

As a group, they're not doing well.

As a result of the recent heavy rains, the water is barely brackish and the catch is catfish, rays, under-size specs, and every so often a small shark. But to the group, all this doesn't matter, every hit produces the same excited rushing about, of reeling in, of avoiding other lines, and finally, the grabbing of the net to pull whatever is caught up to the high deck of the pier.

Stella has caught two hardheads and, undaunted, is working her borrowed pole, casting, reeling in, feeling her line. I watch her. She's having a good time. I keep myself a several feet away, staying out of the action, talking to an old oil field hand who is willing to chat with me between casts about the old days on the rigs, about mud men, pipe stands and doodle bugging.

Anything but fishing, I think, and I watch and hang on to his every word.

"Bubba, you got one!"

Bubba, a boy about twelve, maybe thirteen, barefoot, large hands and vivid black curly hair, grabs the vibrating pole he'd left resting against the rail and dancing back, yanks hard. The hook sinks in; he has it. More reeling in, excitement. Someone yells, "Another shark."

I can't help it, the excitement is pervasive, and I stand to watch as the boy lands small shark, and another boy, the same age, measures it, "thirty four inches, not a keeper" and deftly unhooking it, Bubba throws it back in.

Finally, Stella becomes tired of catching hardheads and we go back to the pick-up and head home, me driving as she talking about fishing and the newly repaired and extended pier that has become Waveland's pride and joy. The renovated pier is not officially open as yet, but when it does, probably by the first or second week of August, she plans to get a season ticket.

"Too bad about Bubba, though," she says looking back toward the long pier where she left him. "He'll only be able to come out on weekends."

I look back at the pier in the rear view mirror. Rain was coming, a dark mass coming from the west; it will hit the pier soon.

"Why is that?"

"School. His school starts the end of this month." She's waving a finger now, thinking. "No, that's not right. I think it starts the eighth of August or something like that. But anyway, he won't be fishing much longer."

"What?" I forget about the pier and turn to her. "August!"

"Paul, come on. All the schools around here start the first week or second of August. You know that!"

"No. No, I didn't." I'm flabbergasted and stare at the road ahead of us. "Why are they doing that? How long has that been going on?"

Later I sit on the porch, watching rain squalls move in front going from west to east across the water. They're much heavier than the misty, brief showers we saw earlier. Jennie, our gray Weimaraner is at my feet and the low rumble of thunder far to our west makes her look about nervously. The thunder and the brief flashes of lightning in the distance indicate the rain will probably get worse and the two of us will have to go in soon. But till then, I stay and watch. Jennie shifts uneasily at my feet.

The Waveland Pier in the distance to our right vanishes momentarily in the diffused haze of a moving squall. I'm sure with all this, the fishermen have long since quit for the day. The uncaught catfish, rays, and sharks are safe for another day.

Watching this broad show of sweeping rain and muted thunder moving across the Sound, I think that for all its bluster and noise, it is all a late spring effort, that from this point on, summer, real summer, really starts; stretching in time far ahead across a long hazy distance of hot, bright days.

Against all this, I try to digest what Stella has told me about Bubba.

School in August! It all seems unreal, unnatural. My children and grandchildren are grown well beyond school. So, my ideas of summer vacations are dated, left over from my years ago experience with school.

I remembered that way back then we got off about a week before Memorial Day and we went back to school the week after Labor Day. That gave us three months of...of...well, whatever we wanted to do.

What a wonderful gift those three months were!

Summer jobs, camps, family vacations or just sitting around watching golden day follow golden day. Usually a little of each of the first few, but lots and lots of the last. We all have memories of our days in school, but think of all the vast richer memories of our days of summer.

Maybe this was all too much to the structure-seeking school czars of today.

That may well be it. Our summers were not structured, we were wasting time, time that could be by any rational thinking person, be better spent in planned lessons, in controlled environments, doing the logical things, the needed things, the things that went with producing a person ready to enter the real world.

Maybe.

But then there's Bubba. What class would teach him to do what he did today, what class would have him work so hard for a catch that he and everyone standing there with him knew would be thrown back in as soon as it was landed.

Logic. Structure. Control. Think about it. This is what we were taught by our teachers, our parents. Yet as we grow older we see the world around us is really different, much different, that there are times when it seems that all creation is made up of none of these, but instead a decoupled series of endless chaos.

It's probably not; I feel there is a subtle logic to it all. It's not the contrived logic we have been taught, that we have allowed ourselves to be so familiar with, but a more infinitely warped logic. The summers we had long ago, those "wasted" summers, prepared us for the real world's warped logic, the real world's misshapen structure of existence.

A world in which a wasted moment at the right time is actually the essence of joy itself. The wasted moment that, when viewed against the vast endless panorama of existence, is the real purpose of it all.

I remember when Gretel, my first Weimaraner, was just a six month puppy. I knew she would become a big dog and I wanted to teach her to behave. On the advice of friends, I brought her to a well known dog obedience trainer in Biloxi.

The woman looked at Gretel, talked to her for a moment and then told me to bring her back when she was a year old.

Oceanographer and author Paul Estronza LaViolette will give a reading from his new book, "Bubba and His Black Coat of Invisibility," at 7 p.m. this Thursday, July 21, at Da Beach House on Beach Blvd. in Bay St. Louis.

Lecture series to discuss Big 3 religions

THE SEA COAST ECHO

A review of similarities and differences among the three major monotheistic faiths - Judaism, Christianity and Islam - will be the topic of a panel discussion on Tuesday, July 26 at 7 p.m. in Long Beach.

The discussion is part of a lecture series sponsored by The University of Southern Mississippi and the Sun Herald.

"Judaism, Christianity & Islam: So What's the Difference?" is the special summer lecture bringing together three experts in their prospective religious field. Dr. Allan Eickelmann, an instructor of religion at Southern Miss, will moderate the discussion held at Southern Miss Gulf Park in the Advanced Education Center Auditorium.

His courses include Comparative Religion, Introduction to the Old Testament, Introduction to the New Testament and The Life of Jesus. Eickelmann also serves as the chair of the "Issues+Answers" lecture series committee and is lead editor of the book Justice and Violence, which will be published later this year.

Rabbi Debra Kassoff has served since June 2003 as the director of Rabbinic Services at the Goldring-Woldenberg Institute of Southern Jewish Life, based in Jackson. Her work takes her to isolated Jewish communities throughout the South where she provides spiritual leadership, pastoral care, Jewish education and interfaith programming.

John Switzer currently teaches at Spring Hill College and as an adjunct instructor at Southern Miss. He recently returned from Boston College where he received a full fellowship to pursue an interdisciplinary doctorate in theology and education. He has participated in a Fulbright-Hayes Scholarship to study culture and religion in India.

Mark S. Wagner is assistant professor of religion at Southern Miss. He received a doctorate in Middle Eastern and Islamic studies from New York University in 2004. His area of specialization is medieval Islamic literature. Professor Wagner has traveled to Israel and the Palestinian Territories: Jordan, Egypt, Yemen and Turkey.

The lecture series titled "Issues + Answers" features five lecturers a year on topics of interest to South Mississippi residents, such as arts, economic development, government, science and technology and education.

PrayerWalk in Hancock County

On Sunday, August 7 at 5 p.m., churches in North Hancock County will assemble to sponsor the Hancock County Public Schools Prayer Walk. This is the fifth year for this annual event, which brings together Christians of many denominations to pray over the schools in the county.

Bayou Talla Fellowship Church, 18555 Hwy. 43 W in Kiln, will be host church for the brief Prayer Assembly and Rally, which begins at 5 p.m. From there, the prayer teams will go to the various schools and the administration building to pray for protection for teachers, administrators, students, and parents for the coming year.

Since the Prayer Walk began four years ago there has been a marked decline in teen suicides, vandalism, drug trafficking, and campus violence. Pastors and church members from all areas and denominations are encouraged to participate. Teachers, administrators, parents, and students are invited to come and pray over the beginning school year.

Fisher, Dovonu & Meyers participate in MAC All-Star games

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Mississippi Association of Coaches just finished three days of state All-Star games. Recently, the Bernard Blackwell All-Star Classic football game was played on Friday night. It was preceded by the MAC All-Star basketball game for rising seniors, a first-ever volleyball game and an All-Star tennis match.

OLA's Jordan Fisher was the lone representative from the area on the historic first team while OLA coach Mike Meyers was a coach for the East team. Other coast participants were Laura Ann Garner from Gulfport, Jamie Hill and Lindsay Hitt, both of St. Martin. Meyers joined Erika Hardy McCoy of Olive Branch as coaches of the East team.

The East defeated the West 22-25, 26-24, 25-22 and 25-18.

The MAC All-Star basketball game celebrated 50 years of tradition on Thursday night in Clinton. J. Larry Ladner of Kiln was Hancock County's first-ever All-State player and a member of the first MAC All-Star game. He was honored Thursday night at the game with other members of the first squad.

Ludovic Dovonu, a 6-6 junior forward for St. Stanislaus, was the only area player on the South squad. He scored 11 points in the game. The North squad defeated the South 90-80 behind Holly Springs' Brandon Ayers' 31 points, just one point shy of the record set by Doug Hutton of Clinton in 1960.

The MAC All-Star basketball game features the top rising seniors in the state in an All-Star format. The North squad won for the fifth time in the last six meetings but trail the South in the overall series.

Try fly fishing for a different twist

BY JAMES L. CUMMINS

I have been fly fishing for over 18 years, and I can attest to the increase in the number of people fly fishing, especially when I fished for trout while in school in Virginia. If you are interested in fly fishing, but don't care for traveling long distances, the answer lies right in your backyard.

Mississippi is blessed with thousands of acres of waters which hold enough bluegill to make any angler dance a jig. Bluegill can provide the same kind of fun that trout do and can provide valuable practice in the many finer points of fly fishing.

Fly fishing for bluegill is not just a fun and exciting way to fish, it can be extremely effective. During the spawn, males are usually around beds and are extremely aggressive. They will hit almost any fly or popping bug that comes close to them. A fish every cast is not unusual (my wife likes to remind me.)

Equipment should be kept simple. If bluegills are to be the main focus of your fly fishing efforts, a 7 to 7.5 foot fiberglass rod designed to cast 4 to 5 weight lines will be sufficient and will aid in casting accuracy, especially in close quarters. If you think you might try trout with the same gear, you may want to consider an 8 to 9 foot graphite or composite rod designed to cast 5 to 7 weight line. In a fly fishing reel, a lightweight single-action reel with some type of drag system is all you need.

As is the case with monofilament line, there are many different types of fly lines on the market and it can be quite confusing trying to pick what is right for you. The manufacturer will suggest a line size best suited for that particular fly rod. I would advise using light weight line. For example, if you have a rod designed for 5 to 7 weight line, try 5 weight. A double taper or weight forward taper in a floating line will give you the most versatility and will also simplify casting.

Manufactured leaders come in various lengths and sizes are a matter of personal preference. For bluegill, match the length of your leader to the length of your rod.

The leader should be tapered and the tippet should be somewhere in the 3 to 6 pound test size. Because of the expense of manufactured leaders, it would be wise to purchase tippet material in the same test size as your leader. This way when your leader gets down to the heavier test, you can simply tie on a piece of the tippet material to make your leader it's original length rather than replacing the leader.

Effective flies for bluegill include popping bugs, wet flies and nymphs, in various insect patterns, and a few dry flies. Bluegill have small mouths, so flies in 12 to 20 hook sizes work best. The best colors are black, olive-green and brown. Now that you are fully equipped, locate some fish. And take a young person with you!

Be prepared when launching boats

When launching your vessel at a boat ramp, does it seem like the whole world is watching your every move? Chapman's Boating Etiquette author Pat Piper offers ten tips for happier boating:

1. Prior to backing down the ramp have everything that needs to be transferred from the tow vehicle placed in the boat. Trailer boaters who wait until their vessel is in the water cause delays and get nasty stares.

2. Concrete and fiberglass don't mix. Unhook the boat from the winch after the vessel is in the water, not before. Once your boat is splashed, have your crew secure it to the dock while you park your tow vehicle and trailer, leaving the ramp open for the next launch.

3. Don't make others wait while you're having a discussion with your crew on where to go or else those waiting in line behind you will happily offer suggestions.

4. Offer assistance if someone needs help. If you have never backed down a ramp, practice in a large parking lot prior to launching.

5. If you're on the ramp and would like help, be succinct. This is not the time to ask questions about bleeding the brakes or to debate the advantages of bias ply tires.

6. Trailer parking spaces are for tow vehicles and trailers only. Guests should park elsewhere.

7. Get into a routine at the ramp and use a checklist. It will make your life easier.

8. When returning to a ramp, drop off the person who will get the tow vehicle and trailer from the parking lot first and wait for them in an out-of-the-way location while they retrieve the vehicle.

9. Once the boat is on the trailer, secure safety chain to the bow eye and move up the ramp. Secure the remaining tie downs and transfer stuff back to the tow vehicle when you get to the parking lot - not on the ramp.

Saltwater fishing regulations book available

The 2005-2006 edition of "A Guide to Mississippi Saltwater Fishing Rules and Regulations," which incorporates new and revised saltwater fishing regulations for the state of Mississippi, is now available at the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources (DMR). The DMR's office is located at 1141 Bayview Ave., Suite 101, Biloxi. For a free copy, please stop by the DMR Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The new 32-page fishing regulations book contains information on commercial and recreational fishing and includes the original artwork of Joe Jewell, a member of the DMR's Office of Marine Fisheries staff. Jewell has provided illustrations for the fishing regulations book since 1999.

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources is dedicated to enhancing, protecting and conserving marine interests of the State by managing all marine life, public trust wetlands, adjacent uplands and waterfront areas to provide for commercial, recreational, educational and economic uses of these resources.

Assessment, the Mississippi Curriculum Test, the Subject Area Testing Program and the Writing Assessment.

"Our investment in education and our emphasis on data-driven decision making to guide instructional strategy is paying off," said Dr. Henry L. Johnson, State Superintendent of Education. "The trend lines indicate that we are moving in the right direction."

Mississippi public school students in Grade 6 were administered the Norm-Referenced Test for the sixth year. The Terra Nova, a commercial achievement test that compares the performance of students in Mississippi to students nationwide, produces scores in three content areas: reading, language and mathematics.

The NRT results this year indicate that Mississippi sixth grade students are performing at or above the national average in all three content areas based on the 1996 norm group.

Student achievement continues to increase. The percentage of students scoring proficient and above on the Mississippi Curriculum Tests, which are administered to grades 2-8 in three content areas: reading, language and mathematics, increased dramatically between 2001 and 2005.

On the high school level, the percentage of students passing the Subject Area Testing Program exams for Algebra I, Biology I, U.S. History and the English II Writing Assessment increased over last year, while the percentage of students passing English II Multiple Choice Assessment dipped slightly.

Board members also discussed the revision of the Language Arts and Mathematics frameworks being revised to include increased rigor and the new assessment items, which will reflect this rigor. The Department utilized extensive studies and worked with master teachers to ensure that the rigor in the curriculum and the assessments are aligned.

The Mississippi Department of Education along with the heads of the Institutions of Higher Learning and the Community College Board embarked on a statewide campaign last year to let local communities know the importance of raising standards, particularly at the high school level. In support of this initiative to increase the rigor the high school curriculum, the State Board of Education recently approved increasing the graduation requirements for all students.

Beginning with ninth graders entering in the fall of 2008, students will have to complete four years of English, math, science, and social studies. In math, two of the four years of math will have to be beyond Algebra I. In science, students must take at least one lab-based course, and in social studies students will have to take economics.

In another effort to support this initiative, four high schools were recently selected to participate in a high school redesign pilot project. The high schools awarded the grants include:

Oxford High School
Oxford School District

Humphreys County High School
Humphreys County School District

Northwest Rankin High School
Rankin County School District

Bay High School
Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District

Awarded to one high school in each Congressional District, the grant will assist the schools in implementing a high school redesign model, with the goal of graduating students from high school who are better prepared for the demands of higher education or employment in an increasingly technological society. The project represents a collaboration of offices within the Department of Education and from SERVE, a regional educational organization. These schools will receive technical assistance and funding to implement the best known research-based practices over a three-year period.

Under No Child Left Behind Guidelines, the standard for the percentage of students reaching proficient is being raised for the 2004-05 school year. This means a higher percentage of students, both as a whole and in nine subgroups, must score proficient or above for a school to meet Adequate Yearly Progress requirements.

This standard will increase every three years under the NCLB guidelines as Mississippi continues the journey to 2014 when the law requires all students to be proficient.

The Board also approved:

The Mississippi Board of Education Priorities and Goals. The four priorities are: High Student Achievement; High Quality Professionals; Healthy Learning Environment; and Effective Use of Resources, with several goals to support each priority.

To revise the Mississippi Physical Education Framework in accordance with the standard revision cycle.

To revise the Mississippi Comprehensive Health Framework in accordance with the standard revision cycle.

To award competitive grants for the Dyslexia Program in support of districts' implementation of scientific research-based programs. The grants recipients include the Hancock County School District.

To begin the Administrative Procedures Act process: To revise Mississippi's Policies and Procedures for Implementation of IDEA 1997 in order to implement new requirements of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act of 2004 (IDEA04).

To award two discretionary grants to:

Jobs for Mississippi Grants, Inc. to teach at-risk high school students the skills, attitudes, personal qualities and work ethics needed to be considered "job ready" for employment in America's workforce.

Delta State University to establish and E-Learning Center to serve Delta area schools.

To begin the Administrative Procedures Act process: To increase the standard (cut score) for the Validated Personnel Appraisal Instrument for Superintendents, Central Office Staff, and Principals as part of the evaluation process for Priority Schools as recommended by the Standard Setting Committee.

A request from William Carey College to modify its teacher education program to provide for granting of Vocational Counselor licenses to school counseling teacher education candidates.

A request from Mississippi College to utilize a 12-hour course substitution in its Elementary Education Master of Education program allowing elementary teachers to obtain dual certification in Elementary Education and teaching English as a second language.

Office, there is a file with several hundred unserved warrants.

"If we can't find a person, (a warrant) goes to the back of the stack and gets overlooked," Cuevas said.

During the board meeting that followed, the remaining three board members voted to rehire every coach at Hancock High School.

This had long been a hot-button issue for the school board, as Packer Ladner and Rose Acker had been against renewing the coaching contracts for Michael Ladner and Andy Perniciaro, two coaches who their fellow board members Peggy Ladner and Morgan Ladner were in favor of keeping. Packer Ladner said he was unsure if his arrest was politically motivated.

"That's hard for me to say. I'm not a lawyer. Do I think it's strange they pulled (my warrant) out of 500? Yes."

Necaise adamantly stated that the arrest had nothing to do with any political issues on the school board.

"There are implications that the arrest was a setup, that it was planned, that it was designed to keep (Ladner) away from the meeting," Necaise said. "The school board meeting had no bearing on the execution of my office and its duties. If public is upset with what the school board did in Mr. Ladner's absence, then I encourage the public to address their concerns to the board."

Board member Peggy Ladner, district 4, said she and Morgan Ladner had discussed adding the coaches roster to the agenda long before they knew of Packer Ladner's arrest.

Necaise said he came by the information while at a gas station in Kiln when he heard two individuals discussing Ladner.

"In the scope of the conversation, these people were having in a booth three feet away, one of them said, 'I hear tell that (Ladner) has a warrant that has never been served, and probably never will. I feel that as a law enforcement officer, I have a sworn duty to investigate these matters.'"

Necaise said he began looking into the matter. A few days later, on July 7, he stopped Ladner just north of I-10 and 603. Necaise said he did not have a copy of the warrant at the time. He attempted to verify information he had with Ladner, then sent him on his way.

At this point, a dispatcher informed Necaise that there was indeed a warrant on Ladner, and that his license had been suspended for several years as well.

Necaise approached Ladner before the board meeting, and informed him of the warrant, and that his license had been suspended. Necaise said he agreed to Ladner's request that he be taken into custody elsewhere. Ladner drove down to Dolly's quick stop in Kiln, locked up his car, then drove with Necaise to the Hancock County Jail.

Necaise said that much of his information comes from his own investigations these days: Since 2004, he said, he has not been given any warrants to serve. He said this stemmed from a board of supervisors meeting last year when a justice court clerk informed the board that constables would no longer serve warrants for "political reasons."

"As of this date, there has yet to be one warrant given to a constable, or put into a constable's box. We have to ask for them," Necaise said he has asked for an extra copy of each warrant filed to be placed in a box for constables to go through.

"I was told (the Sheriff's office) didn't have the manpower," he said.

Extra help may be available to help pay for Medicare prescription drug costs

BY SHAWN MERCER

Beginning in January 2006, Medicare will offer prescription drug plans to beneficiaries. But now is the time to see if you qualify for some extra financial help in paying for your monthly premiums, annual deductibles and prescription co-payments under the new program.

From late May through mid-August, Social Security is mailing letters to nearly 19 million people who are potentially eligible for this extra help. The letter includes an application and return-addressed, postage-paid envelope.

If you receive a letter in the mail, please read the information carefully. The letter will explain the prescription drug program, and tell you how to apply for the extra help. Those who qualify for the extra help could save an average of $2,100 per year.

Even if you do not get an application in the mail, you still might be eligible for help with prescription drug costs. See if you might qualify and apply online at Social Security's website, www.socialsecurity.gov.

You also can contact Social Security at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778) for more information or to apply over the telephone.

To qualify for the extra help, a person or married couple living together must have limited income and resources. You can qualify for this help as an individual if your total annual income is below $14,355 and your resources are valued below $10,000.

The limits for a married couple living together are higher: $19,245 in combined annual income and $20,000 in resources. These resources can be slightly higher -- an additional $1,500 per person -- if you will be using some of your money for burial expenses.

Even if your income is higher, you still may be able to get some help if, for example, you or your spouse supports other family members who live with you, if you have earnings from work or if you live in Alaska or Hawaii.

There are also certain exclusions from both income and resources. For example, your home and cars are not counted as resources. So if you think you might be eligible, you should apply.

It is important to note that some beneficiaries will automatically qualify for the extra financial help. Anyone who has both Medicare and Medicaid, or Medicare and Supplemental Security Income, or anyone whose state pays his or her Medicare premiums, will not have to complete an eligibility application.

But even if you automatically qualify for extra help, you still need to enroll in a Medicare-approved prescription drug plan to obtain both coverage and the extra help.

For more information about getting extra help with Medicare prescription drug costs, call Social Security at 1-800-772-1213 (TTY 1-800-325-0778), or visit www.socialsecurity.gov. To learn more about the Medicare prescription drug plans, call 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227) or visit www.medicare.gov.

14th annual Steak & Stake dinner and auction to benefit local Boys & Girls Club

The Boys & Girls Clubs of the Gulf Coast will host the 14th annual Steak & Stake Dinner & Silent Auction, Tuesday, July 26. The evening kicks off with a pre-dinner reception and silent auction at 6:00 p.m. at the Grand Gulfport Event Center.

Based on the concept that by purchasing a STEAK, you are buying a STAKE in a child's future, the "Steak & Stake" Dinner is a celebration held by many Clubs across the country. Funds generated help support the organization's costs associated with operations, programming and outreach services for 6 Clubs in Harrison and Hancock Counties.

Talented Club kids will be showcased throughout the evening with performances and Youth Awards. The highlight of the evening will be the announcement of the Boys & Girls Clubs of the Gulf Coast "Youth of the Year."

The 14th Annual Steak & Stake Dinner is Chaired by Mickey Parenton, Sr. Vice President of Casino Operations for Grand Casino. Co-Chair for the event is retired business woman Arlene Canaan.

Over 500 community leaders, elected officials, business leaders and volunteers as well as 300 Club Members are expected to attend this year's event.

Last year the Clubs had over 3,000 registered members ranging in age from six to eighteen, and served thousands of additional youth through various Outreach Programs in Harrison and Hancock Counties. The Boys & Girls Clubs of the Gulf Coast, a United Way agency, will directly benefit from all proceeds generated from this event. Funds raised will assist in costs associated with operational, programming and outreach services for the Club's five units and activity center.

If you would like to donate an auction item, purchase a seat, or sponsor a table at one of our sponsorship levels ranging from $500.00 to $5,000.00, please contact Sam Burke at 228-374-2330.

Survey shows Americans support NASA's space exploration plans

Americans continue to show solid support for NASA's plans to explore, discover and understand our universe by returning the Space Shuttle to flight, completing the International Space Station, and sending robot probes and humans to the Moon, Mars and beyond.

That's at least one conclusion of a new Gallup survey on public attitudes about our nation's space program that was coordinated by the Space Foundation and sponsored by the Coalition for Space Exploration.

More than three-fourths (77%) of the American public say they support a new plan for space exploration that would include a stepping-stone approach to return the space shuttle to flight, complete assembly of the space station, build a replacement for the shuttle, go back to the Moon and then on to Mars and beyond.

With funding for such a program expected not to exceed 1 percent of the federal budget, 51% of adults surveyed say they support the program and 26% strongly support it. Of note is that a majority of both Republicans (84%) and Democrats (75%) support such an exploration plan.

The results to this particular question are higher than measured by Gallup in 2004 when the same question was asked. In 2004, 68% of Americans supported or strongly supported the exploration plan.

"We're very happy that public support for our nation's space program continues to grow, especially as we return to flight with the Space Shuttle Discovery to begin a new era of space exploration," said Jeff Carr, chairman of the Coalition's public affairs team.

When it comes to NASA's budget, almost three-fourths (73%) of American adults surveyed think NASA's budget should remain at its present level (36%) or be increased (37%).

NASA's current share of the total federal budget is .7%, or about $58 per year for the average citizen. During the height of Project Apollo, NASA's share of the budget was about 4 percent.

Among the Gallup survey's other findings:

Seven in ten adults (71%) say they are somewhat interested (49%) or very interested (22%) in America's space program.

Of nine possible answers, most (26%) said the most popular reason America continues to explore space is because it is human nature to do so. Almost one-fourth (24%) said it is to conduct science experiments.

Eight in ten adults (80%) say they somewhat agree (48%) or strongly agree (32%) that America's space program helps give America the scientific and technological edge it needs to compete with other nations in the international marketplace.

More than three-fourths (76%) of adults somewhat agree (48%) or strongly agree (28%) that America's space program benefits the nation's economy by inspiring students to pursue careers in technical fields.

The complete Gallup survey report and supporting data will be posted on the Coalition web site at <http://www.spacecoalition.com>.

The Coalition for Space Exploration is a diverse group of companies, nonprofit organizations, trade associations and unions dedicated to supporting the nation's Vision for Space Exploration, which will ensure America remains a leader in space, science and technology — key factors that create jobs, promote the nation's economy, contribute to our national security, and gratify humanity's need to explore. For more information please visit <http://www.spacecoalition.com>.

Founded in 1983 and headquartered in Colorado Springs, the Space Foundation is a national nonprofit organization that vigorously advances civil, commercial, and national security space endeavors and educational excellence. The Space Foundation has offices in Washington, D.C., and Cape Canaveral, Fla. The Space Foundation annually conducts, along with its partnering organizations, Strategic Space 2005, Oct. 4-6, in Omaha, Neb.; Florida Space 2005, Nov. 15-17 at the Kennedy Space Center Visitor Complex, Fla.; and the Foundation's signature event, the National Space Symposium, April 3-6, 2006, at The Broadmoor in Colorado Springs, Colo. For more information, visit <http://www.spacefoundation.org>.

Hurricane Evacuation

Zones set by federal government

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

One of the biggest complaints received by the Hancock County Emergency Management Agency (EMA) during Tropical Storm Cindy and Hurricane Dennis was about the evacuation boundaries, EMA director Brian Adam said last week.

"Many people confuse the flood zones with evacuation areas, and the lines of each are very different," Adam said. "The boundaries for the Evacuation areas were established by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

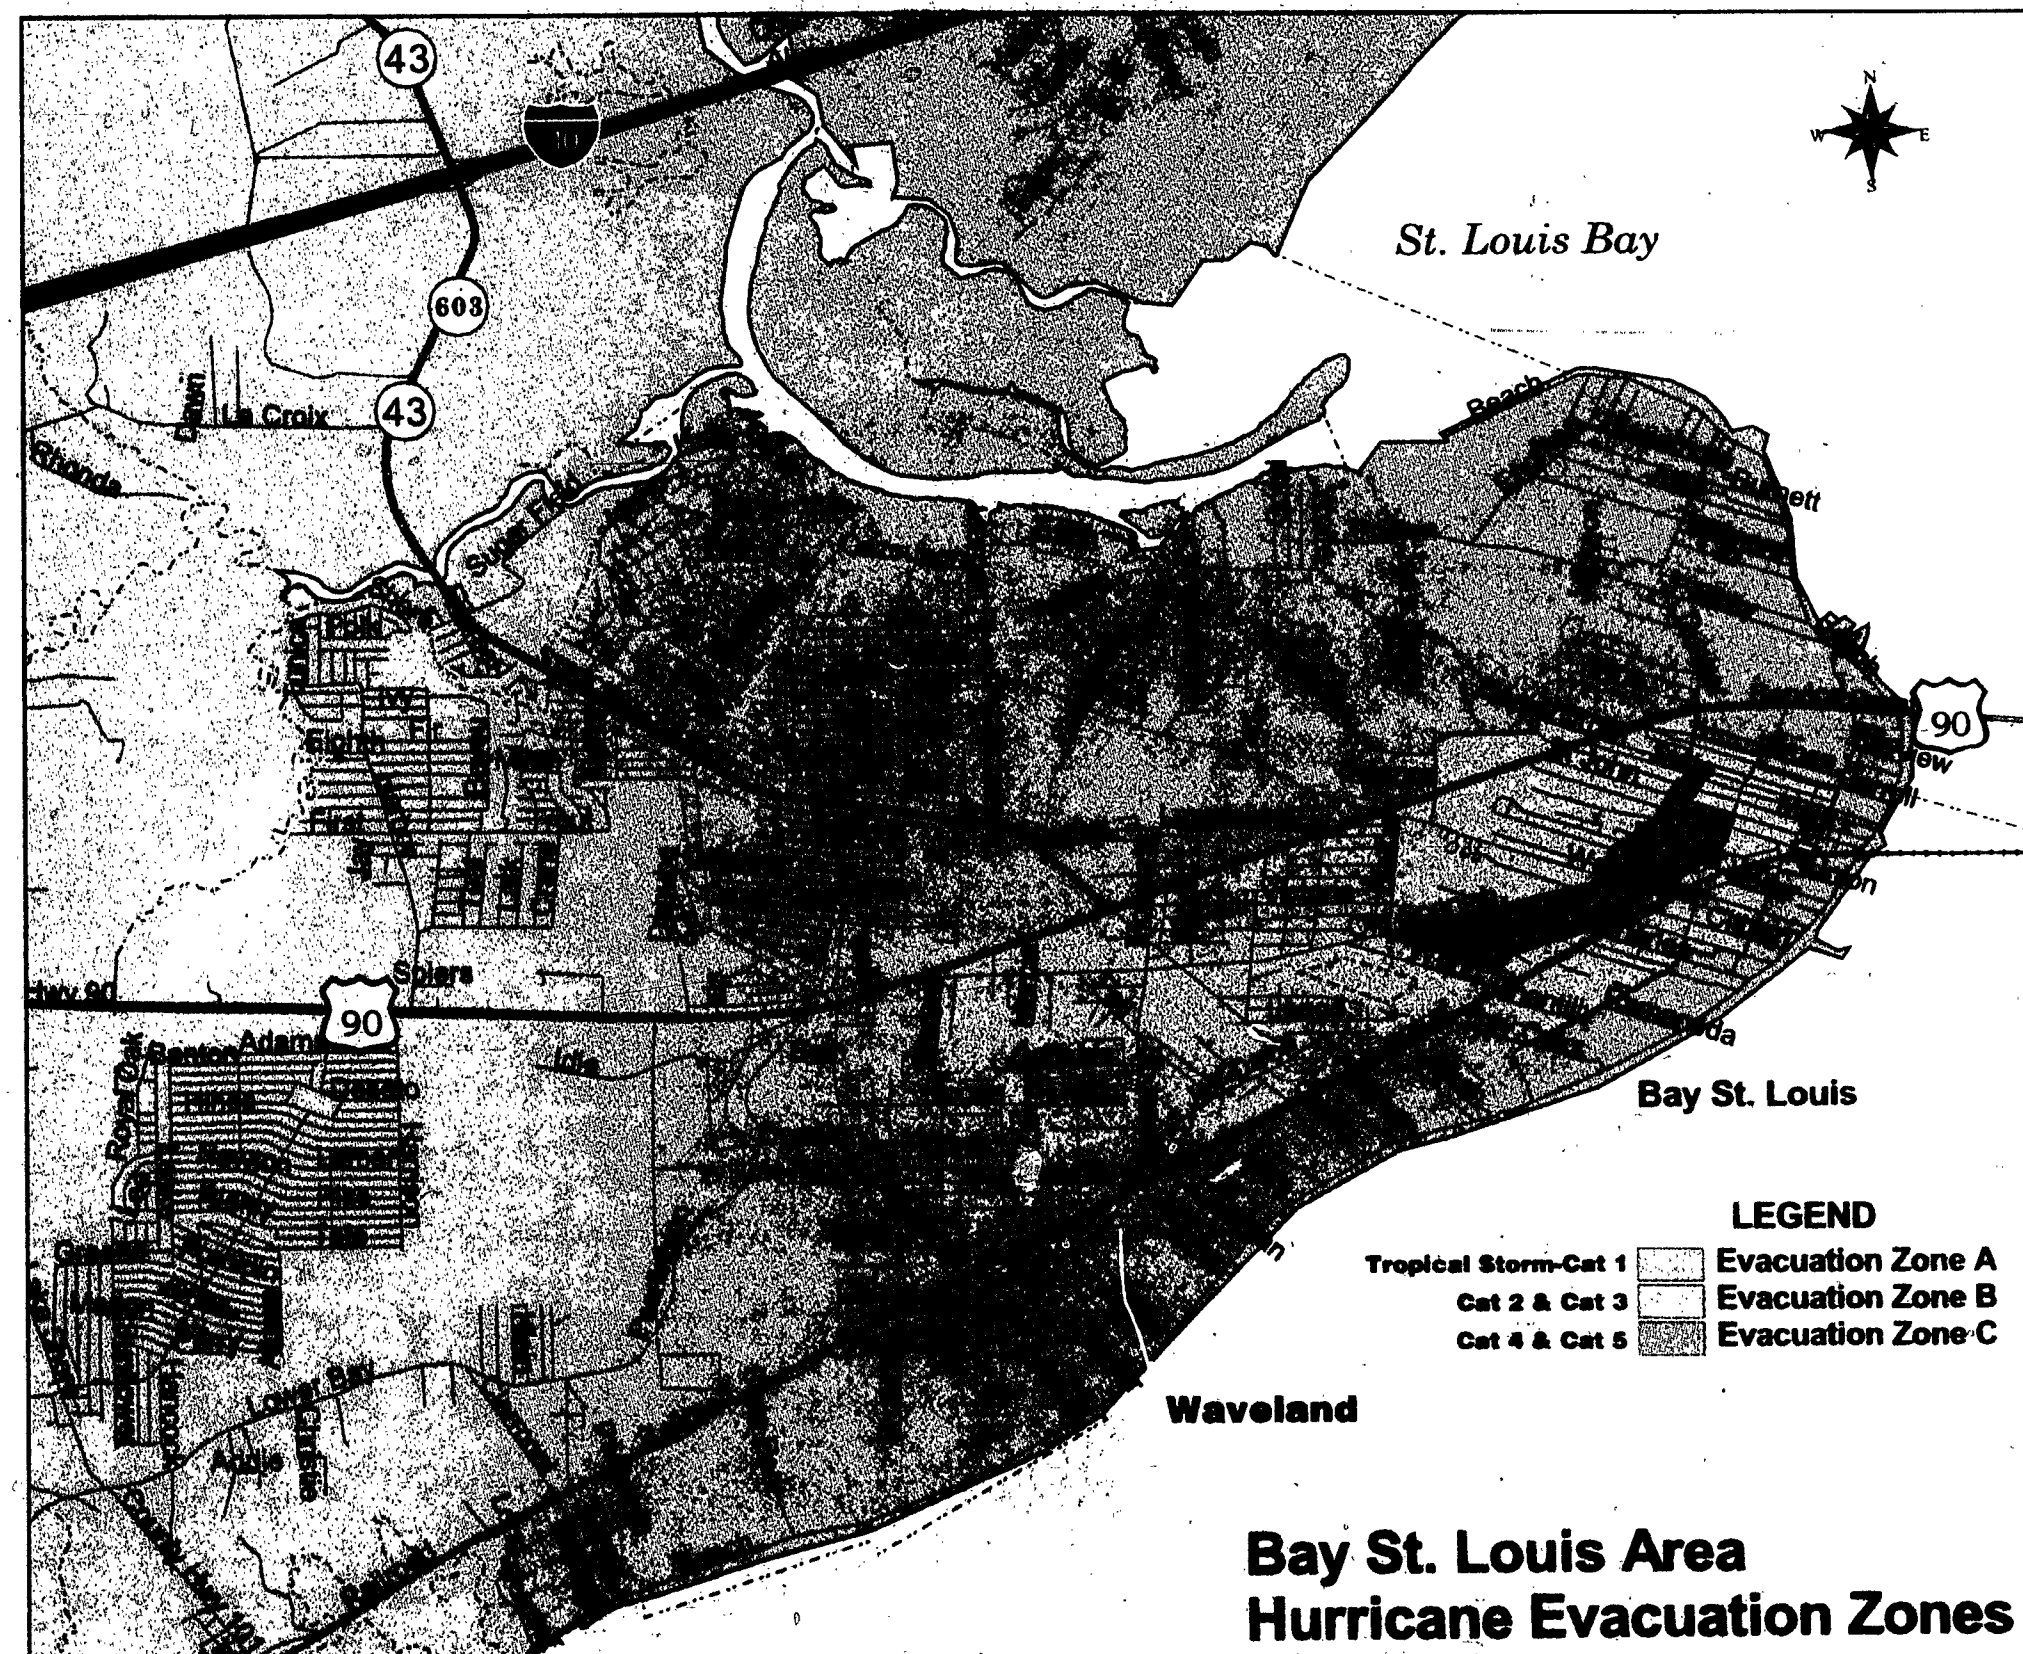

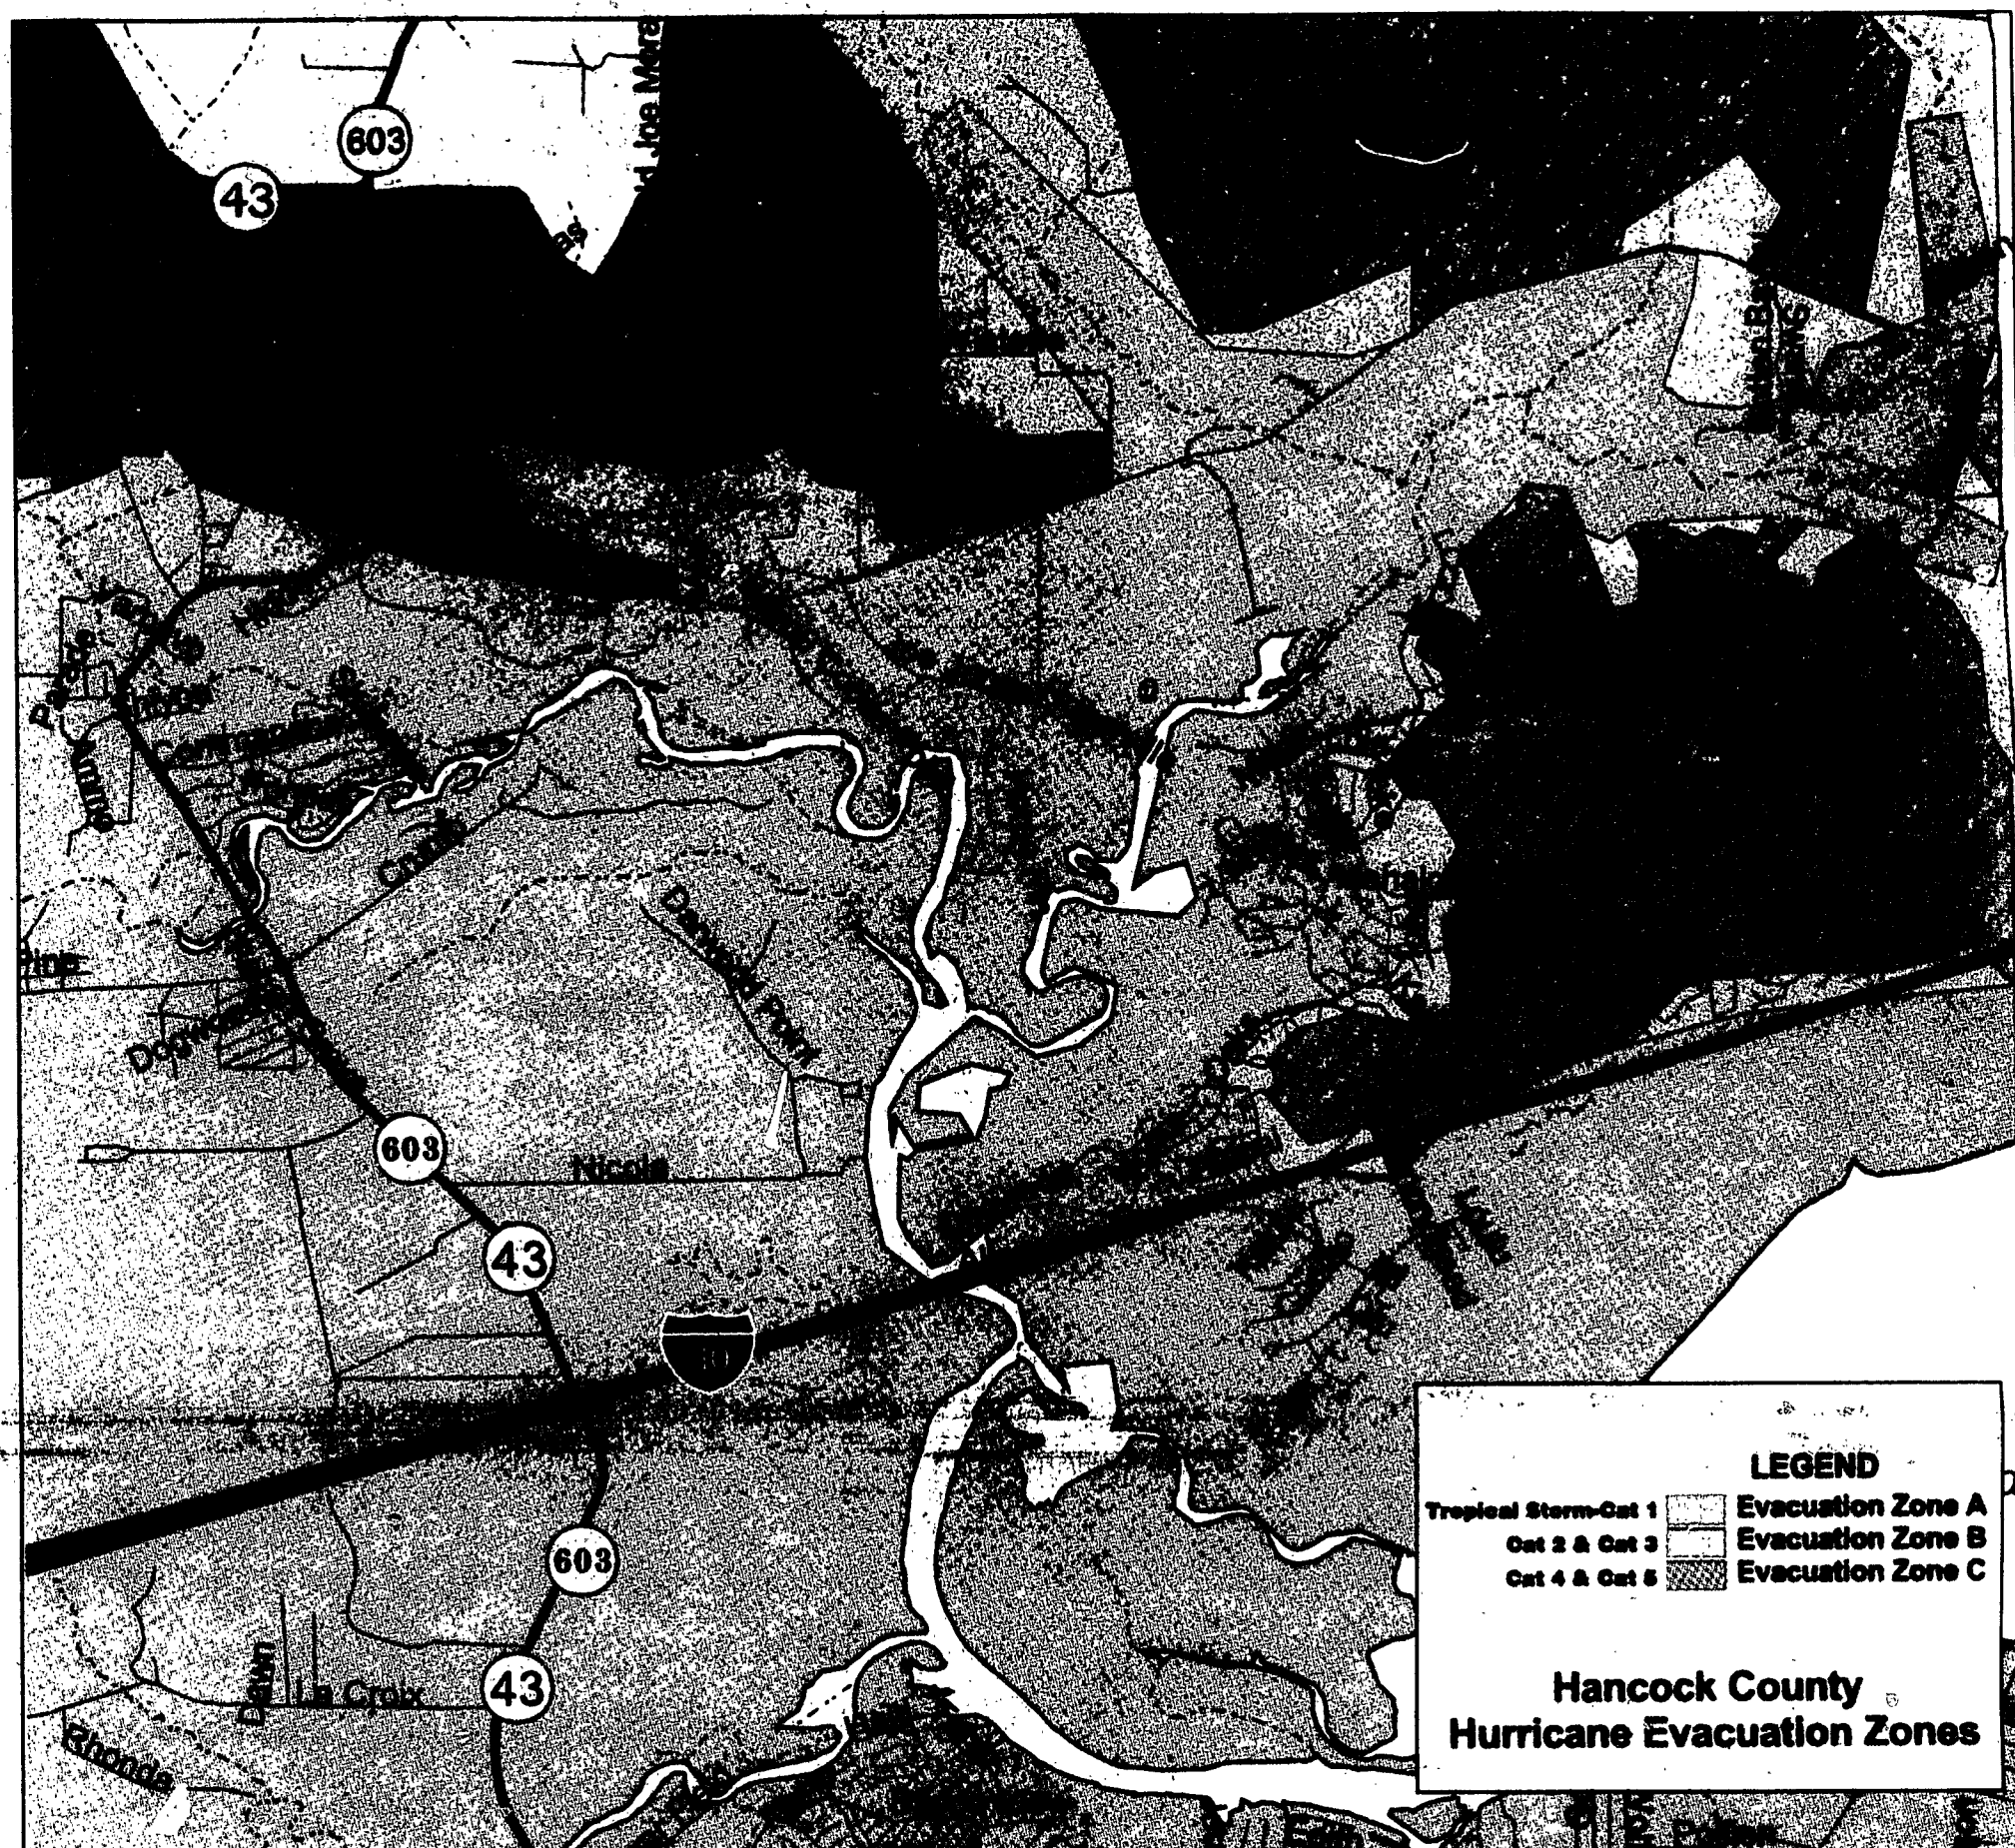

Any type of Evacuations for persons residing in Zone A are for Tropical Storms and Category 1 Hurricanes.

Any type of Evacuations issued for persons in Zone B are for Hurricanes in Categories 2 and 3, in addition to Zone A.

Evacuation for all residents of Zone C is for Category 4 and 5 Hurricanes, as well as all other Zones.

"Even with us not setting the standards for the Evacuation Zones for the county, by law we have to use the boundaries set by the maps issued by FEMA," Adam emphasized.

Adam continued, "We are not the only county, or parish having abide by the guidelines of FEMA for evacuations, as they have set the zones for all coastal areas of the country."

"Hancock's EMA's first and primary duty is for the safety of the residents. We have to use the tools provided to us by FEMA for evacuations," Adam allowed.

Adam said, "When evacuations are needed, we take a strong look at and review the category of a storm by taking in consideration a lot of information coming from the National Weather Service. All of this is taken into consideration before we issue evacuation orders."

Hancock's Emergency Management Agency is open Mondays through Fridays, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

"We encourage any resident having any question to give us a call at 228-467-9226, or visit our office at the back of the Hancock County Court Annex, 508 Ulman Avenue, Bay St. Louis," Adam reported, adding, "We are here to serve the public."

The Quiet Example

Sometimes we may tend to force others to accept God's love, or perhaps we may have a religious experience that we strongly believe would be beneficial to them. The quiet example of our faith is likely to have a bigger and more lasting impact than our words. For example, parents are aware that teenagers frequently resist almost anything they are told, but this doesn't necessarily mean that they are not listening. A parent's example is usually a much better way of teaching a child what is best for them. No one likes to feel that they are being forced, so the motto "actions speak louder than words" is a good adage for everyday living. If we live our lives in a manner that is righteous and honorable, we are reflecting God's love. Our Heavenly Father wants us to be His disciples, and when we do feel the need to speak to someone about God's love and righteousness, we should be gentle and kind with our words. The Bible tells us that we should be compassionate and kind to one another, and that we should do good to all people.

Our annual prayer lesson

"Well, Hurricane Dennis has turned away from New Orleans and is heading for Pensacola Beach. It is clear that our prayers have been answered. The path of the storm shows me that the people east of us had faith too weak to keep the hurricane away from them. Evidently, their prayers were not strong enough to shield them from danger."

I blinked as the person was saying these words. Faith? Is it a test of faith and prayer power to lie helplessly in the path of an intense storm? Is the island nation of Cuba so contaminated by faithless Castro that too few people there have enough faith and prayer power to ward off evils such as destructive hurricanes and political disasters?

At a prayer meeting two days after Dennis the Menace made landfall, two members of the group said the same prayer in slightly different words: "Lord, we thank you for sparing us from the hurricane." Of course, our being spared meant Florida was not. It is impossible to attach any altruism or ring of validity to such a selfish, insensitive prayer.

The weak-minded and actually faith-starved people who make selfish statements like the above don't have the slightest clue to the true nature of prayer. After all, prayer is an act of communication with God wherein we cannot afford to have the audacity to impose our will, our wants, our needs and our agenda on the Maker of us and the universe.

Even if hurricanes had no other benefits, this one benefit would at least in some measure justify the destructive visitations of these monsters. They invite us to genuine humility and true perspective, bringing us to our knees and forcing us to admit that we are little more than tiny objects bobbing up and down in the tempestuous sea of life.

Thus, we are taken to school each year on the meaning of prayer, the nature of prayer, the purposes of prayer and the need of prayer in our daily lives. Willy-nilly, this is one vital, grassroots seminar from which none of us can or even want to escape.

While we are given occasional reminders of prayer throughout the year, one special reminder comes to us express and without fail every year soon after June 1, the official beginning of the hurricane season in this part of the world. Those who do not pray at any other time do find themselves fulfilling the adage: "There is no atheist in a storm."

"Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you." (Matthew 7:7) This clear invitation of Jesus to be bold and expectant in prayer encourages us to seek out our heavenly Father confidently in all our needs.

In his first letter to the Thessalonians 5:17, Paul jumps far ahead of needs, hurricanes and emergencies of any kind, assuring us that prayer must not be an infrequent thing which we use when our backs are against the wall: "Pray without ceasing."

Then Jesus goes beyond our imaginings, urging us to have great faith as we pray:

"Amen, I say to you, if you have faith the size of a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move. Nothing will be impossible for you." (Matthew 17:20)

We have to wonder how many people have mistakenly allowed these words of Jesus to embolden them to pray for foolhardy things, to take ill-advised, risky chances in the conduct of their lives, or to attempt to deflect disasters from themselves to other people.

There are those who seem to think they can literally move mountains by praying.

Jesus, of course, intended none of the above. Rather, he taught us so well in Matthew 11:2 to pray for the most basic things in our relationship with God and others: "When you pray, say: 'Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name.'"

So, the prayer we are taught to say is far from the crisis management type of prayer in which most people seem to be caught up and involved. Folks, don't wait for the storm, the foxhole situation, the dire need or the pressing emergency of any kind. Make sure that your prayer is so frequent that you are no stranger to God in time of great need.

It is of extreme interest in our society, which is daily becoming more and more secular, that one of the most frequent subjects, during a storm watch, a storm warning or the actual passage of a storm is prayer. In reference to people along the path of a storm one hears constantly on radio talk shows: "Our prayers are with you and all those in your city."

Yes, just as "There is no athe-ist in a storm," monster hurricanes and great tragedies give the lie to secularism and the movement toward the secular city. The inherent lie is that, with impunity, we can separate our lives into convenient compartments of religion, non-religion, faith practices, secular practices and whatever customs our hearts desire.

On the opposite side of the spectrum, Paul sees storms and other perils of life as nothing to deter him and us from the love of God: "What will separate us from the love of Christ? Will anguish, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or the sword?" (Romans 8:35)

For most people of the world, perils, storms and other crippling disasters impede our communications and ordinary relations with other people. However, in Paul's view, such things may slow us down, but are no match at all for our life of faith and prayer which embraces the love of Christ as well as of all human beings. Nothing can separate us.

Because of our sometimes ornery ways, God does not always command our attention.

Yet, God works through Mother Nature in many ways, including the wonders of creation, as we read in Romans 1:20. In our present conversation, the wonder of creation is the power of a single hurricane equaling the force of 400 hydrogen bombs.

In Matthew 6:33, Jesus gives us the desirable pecking order in prayer just as he does in teaching us to pray the Our Father: "Seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be given you besides."

Set a good example for the 'Copy Cats'

Those of us who have children know what "copy cats" are. This is one of their principal methods of learning. This fact is pressed on me every time I am around one of my grandchildren.

At two and a half years old, Staci must help with sweeping the floor; and no one can expect to wash dishes and not have her push up a chair, crawl up and help in a very sloshy and messy way.

When our son was small, I would sometimes take him with me in the "trouble truck" while I was out repairing electric lines. We would sometimes see him in the backyard tying ropes and wires, playing line-man. I even made him a tool belt and some play-like climbers that he could strap around his feet and legs.

What do you think he is today? He is an electrician.

Our daughters are all good seamstresses. Why? Because when they were small, Bobby made almost all of their clothes. They saw her at work, and they got to try on the garments during different periods of the manufacture. They became interested and learned the art.

Is it just children who are "copy cats"? No, we never grow out of it. Adults just rename it. It is called "keeping up with the Jones," or at least that was the expression I used to hear years ago.

Your neighbor built a new

God's Apprentice

By Perry Gibson

home, and, suddenly, the old house in which you had been so comfortable was no longer so. You became unhappy until you, too, could get a new house. And about your car -- do you trade cars every two or three years after driving only twenty or thirty thousand miles? Why, a car is just broken in at that mileage! But Mr. Jones got a new car...

Look at advertising. Why do you think they use big names and well-know faces? It is for us to "have to have" the same thing this celebrity has or uses, even down to our credit cards, to cite the extreme. Advertising programs the public to be "copy cats."

In fact, much of our economy is built around "model change." Get the latest model, discard the old. It matters little if it is good or not. This has gone so far that it even applies to husbands and wives.

We are subjected to this subtle bombardment by radio, television, and print so much that we really do not realize the impact that others have on our lives.

So, if what I have just said is true, and from my observations of a lifetime, it is, then aren't we also a part of this influence? If others can influence us, then can't we also influence others? As professed and practicing Christians, don't we have an obligation to be different from the ordinary?

If a non-Christian cannot tell a Christian by his manner, his habits, his language, and the overall projection of a Christian, then he is not going to find anything desirable to copy. So, as Christians, can we...do we...must we...attempt to mold our lifestyle so that we will favorably stand out? I think we have the obligation. I don't mean to come on too strong. That can really turn people off.

But, in our business dealings, let us be honest; in our debts and obligations, let us pay and honor them; in our dress, let us be modest and in good taste; in our speech, let there be nothing foul or coarse; and in our associations, let us be careful.

Someone may be wanting to "copy cat" your life. If so, give them something worthwhile to shoot for.

Southern Miss participates in national writing project

Sixteen teachers across Mississippi coastal schools elected to spend five weeks of their summer in the classroom. Participating in the Live Oak Writing Project (LOWP) at The University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Coast, participants learned under the model teachers-teaching-teachers. Participants standing - Amy Graves, East Hancock Elementary, Co-chair of Summer Institute; Debra Pavolini, Pass Christian Middle School; Terri Murphy, Harrison County Alternative School; Suzanne Ishee, Pass Christian Middle School; Dorothy Stewart, Pass Christian High School; Laura Miley, Ocean Springs High School; Elaine Bonner, Harrison Central High School; Nancy Storey, Harrison Central Ninth Grade; Denise Wilson, Magnolia Park Elementary Ocean Springs; Elizabeth Lingenfelder, Harrison Central High School; Orlanda Booker, Pass Christian Elementary School; Michelle Lindley, Ocean Springs High School; Sherri Bevis, East Hancock Elementary; Sarah Bailey, Hancock County High School, Chair of Summer Institute. Seated - Elaine White, Southern Miss on the Coast, director of LOWP; Ken Eychner, Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College; Amy Campbell, Vancleave Middle School; Jane Kneble, Bay-Waveland High School; and Susan Fox, Gautier Central Elementary.

Sixteen teachers from across Mississippi coastal schools elected to spend five weeks of their summer in the classroom. Participating in the Live Oak Writing Project (LOWP) at The University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Coast, participants learned under the model teachers-teaching-teachers.

"The Summer Institute has been an amazing experience for me both personally and professionally, and I can't wait to use what I learned in both my classroom and my personal life," said Amy Campbell, an English teacher at Vancleave Middle School in Vancleave.

The goal of the project is to assist teachers from Mississippi coastal schools with their teaching of writing. They also assist in providing professional development to their peers throughout Mississippi's public and private schools. It is a five-week institute focusing on the teaching of writing for practicing teachers.

Dr. Elaine White, director of LOWP and assistant professor of English at Southern Miss Gulf Coast said, "The work we do in our Summer Institute focuses on two important elements for teachers: their personal writing and their writing instruction."

The sixteen teachers first apply for the program and then go through an extensive interview process and are recommended by their principals and colleagues. When the teachers finish all requirements, they continue their affiliation with LOWP as teacher consultants. They participate in providing staff development sessions LOWP offers to school districts.

Around the country, over 3,000 teachers volunteered to spend four weeks of study where university to kindergarten educators come together to learn strategies to help students become accomplished writers and learners. Southern Miss' program is an affiliate of the National Printing Project composed of sites in 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

As with all National Writing Project sites, staff development is designed so that teachers are teaching teachers, which makes LOWP programs both relevant and practical to their colleagues in classrooms across Mississippi.

The main purpose of the program is to provide professional development to hundreds of their educational peers in Mississippi's public and private schools in addition to guiding their students to better writing skills.

For more information on the Live Oak Writing Project, contact Dr. Elaine White at (228) 214-3288.

DANCING HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

History is repeating itself with the opening of Lil Piccola's School of Dance in the Bay-Waveland area. Piccola Johnston is following her mother's footsteps by opening a dance studio this fall. Her mother opened Piccola's School of Dance on Nicholson Ave. in Waveland in 1956 and taught there until she retired in 1988. For many years this was the only dance studio in the area. She will carry on her mother's motto of "WALK IN ---- DANCE OUT."

Piccola has studied dance for 30 years beginning at the age of 17 months. She studied locally as well as took classes under nationally known instructors during many conventions and workshops including Dance Masters of America, Dance Caravan, and Take 5. She also participated in performing for the Miss Dance of Louisiana Contest and the World's Fair when it was in New Orleans along with performances at many local activities. She also has many years of teaching experience at her mother's studio.

Lil Piccola will be registering students at her new studio at 1245 Old Spanish Trail (corner of Bouslog) in Bay St. Louis on July 16 and 23'd from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. She will be offering courses in Tap, Ballet, and Jazz for all ages. If a child can walk, they can dance. She will also be offering beginner adult classes and would like to have a men's tap class for beginners.

For more information call (228) 463-0555 or email Piccola at PicDance@wmconnect.com

The Nevilles bring New Orleans soul to Bay Magic

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The Neville Brothers will bring their unique style of R&B to the stage at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis, Friday and Saturday August 19 and 20 at 9 p.m. Tickets start at just $19.95 and are available at the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or at any Ticketmaster location. Premium seating is also available and you must be at least 21 to attend all shows.

With four powerfully unique personalities, the Neville Brothers thrive on an explosive fusion of diversity and unity. The collective of talented brothers is world-famous for its embodiment of the New Orleans sound. Aaron, Art, Charles and Cyril Neville have expanded the horizons of New Orleans R&B while honoring the music's roots and tradition. Drawing on the vast resources and multiple styles of African-American music, the Neville Brothers have combined R&B, jazz, reggae, and elements of rock and Zydeco with a harmony-based funk groove all their own.

The careers of Art and Aaron Neville began in the early 50's around the street corners, on the porches and at house parties in the notorious Calliope Projects. Aaron is perhaps the best known of the brothers.

His hits include "Tell It Like It Is" in 1966 and his duets in the 80's with Linda Ronstadt on "All My Life" and "Don't Know Much." Art

first came to note well before Elvis, having recorded "Mardi Gras Mambo" with the Hawkettes in 1954. "Mardi Gras Mambo" continues to get heavy airplay and respectable sales during the local Mardi Gras festivities.

After the four put together careers separately and not having played together for eight years, the brothers united to help record the universally acclaimed "The Wild Tchoupitoulas" a year after their mother's death in 1975. They credit their uncle with getting them to join forces.

"He told us that our mother and father had always wanted to see us work together as a band," Charles recalls.

"He knew that if we got together as a family, it would happen."

The brothers became a best-loved local attraction and in 1988, they won a Grammy with "Yellow Moon." Then in the 1990's, Brother's Keeper cemented their star status.

The Neville Brothers have gold and platinum records in six different countries and have been the featured television performers on "Good Morning America," "Today," "Oprah," "Saturday Night Live," "Letterman" and "The Tonight Show."

Country Music Legends Fest at Magic

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Join five of country music's classic performers: Janie Fricke, Mel McDaniel, Gene Watson, Jon Conlee and Ray Price for two shows during Country Legends Fest at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis, September 2 & 3. Both shows start at 9 p.m. and tickets are available from $19.95 at the Casino Magic Box Office by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5, or through Ticketmaster.

Janie Fricke, 52, was just an Indiana farm girl until she got her start in the music biz singing advertising jingles for United Airlines, Coca-Cola and Red Lobster. The commercials got her noticed and Fricke moved to Nashville to do background vocals on albums for Elvis Presley, Ronnie Milsap and Barbara Mandrell. Fricke soon had her own solo career and released acclaimed country singles from 1977-1991 including: "Don't Worry 'Bout Me Baby," "Down to My Last Broken Heart," "Pass Me By," "It Ain't Easy Bein' Easy" and dozens more.

She has also received the Best Female Vocalist award from both the Academy of Country Music and the Country Music Association.

Mel McDaniel may have a bit of a limp since falling into an orchestra pit in 1996, but he hasn't let it slow him down. The 62-year-old from Checotah, Oklahoma has been writing, playing and recording country music since the late 60's. After years of struggling and performing in bars and clubs all across the U.S. (including a stint in Anchorage, Alaska), McDaniel was signed to Capitol records in 1976. His greatest hits include: "Baby's Got Her Blue Jeans On," "Let It Roll," "Countryfied," "Louisiana Saturday Night" and many more.

Gene Watson is respected throughout the music industry as an exceptional vocalist. The Texan was working as an auto-body repair man in the early 70's when he began singing in Houston clubs.

In 1974, he was signed to Capitol records and soon built a reputation for soulful classical country ballads. Watson is best known for hits like: "Love in the Hot Afternoon," "Farewell Party," "Fourteen Carat Mind," "Memories to Burn" and "Paper Rosie." Plus, he still owns his own body shop!

Jon Conlee was born and raised on a tobacco farm in Kentucky and took up the guitar as a child. He initially didn't pursue music as a career, instead becoming a licensed mortician and a disc jockey at numerous area radio stations where he made important industry connections. After moving to Nashville in 1971, Conlee's demo tape got him a contract with ABC

His chart-toppers include: "Rose Colored Glasses," "Lady Lay Down," "Backside of Thirty," "Before My Time," "Friday Night Blues," "She Can't Say That Anymore," "Common Man," "I'm Only in It for the Love," "In My Eyes," and "Got My Heart Set on You." Conlee, now 59, devotes much of his time to charity work (often on behalf of American farmers), raising his family, and running his own farm outside Nashville.

Ray Price became one of American music's living legends when he was inducted into Nashville's Country Music Hall of Fame in 1996. Price is recognized as a great country music innovator who helped to blur the lines between country and pop music.

He became noted for his show-stopping voice and honky tonk hits throughout the 1950's and his use of large string sections and rhythm and bass guitars on his albums in the 60's and 70's. Now 79, Price still maintains a hefty touring schedule and is best known for his hits: "Touch My Heart," "Weary Blues From Waitin'," "Time Changes Everything," "For the Good Times" and "I Won't Mention It Again."

Don't miss these five distinct Country Legends in two great performances, September 2 & 3 at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis! You must be at least 21 to attend all shows.

Redneck Olympics in Winona

Spend the summer getting your lawnmowers geared up and your tug-a-war teams together! Why? Because come this fall, you'll want to be set for the 2nd Annual Redneck Olympics! The Olympics will be held on Saturday, September 24, 2005.

The day will be filled with a lot of good old-fashioned fun. The "Voice of the South," Paul Ott, will be on hand to inspire and entertain. Hubcap hurling, pie-eating, and skillet-tossing are just a couple of the events being brought back by popular demand. Add junk car slamming and the new flour splat, to the obvious crowd-pleasers, such as lawnmower racing and the tug-o-war, and you've got one heck of a time, all in one place - the Montgomery County Coliseum in Winona, Mississippi!

The proceeds will benefit Montgomery County's two public, non-profit hospitals, Tyler Holmes Memorial Hospital and Kilmichael Hospital. For more details, call 662-283-1570.

NOTICE OF LANDS SOLD

THAT WILL MATURE TO PURCHASER AUGUST 25, 2005

NOTICE is hereby given that the following listed real property located in Hancock Co., Mississippi, and sold Aug. 25, 2003 for delinquent 2002 taxes will on the 25th day of August 2005 mature to the purchaser of said lands unless the same are redeemed before Aug. 25, 2005. Redemption can be made by paying the delinquent taxes and all penalties and interest at the Hancock Co. Chancery Clerk's office located in the Hancock Co. Courthouse Building, 152 Main Street, Bay St. Louis, MS. Unless payment is made before August 25, 2005, said land will mature and a Tax Deed will be given to the purchaser of the same, or those not purchased at sale will be stricken to the State of Mississippi. The name, address and legal description of said property is as follows:

This notice issued in accordance with Section 27-43-3 of the Mississippi Code of 1972, as amended.

Military Mention

Navy Seaman Dale M. Harris, son of Deon A. Torgerson of Bay St. Louis, Miss., recently completed U.S. Navy basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week program, Harris completed a variety of training which included classroom study and practical instruction on naval customs, first aid, firefighting, water safety and survival, and shipboard and aircraft safety. An emphasis was also placed on physical fitness.

The capstone event of boot camp is "Battle Stations". This exercise gives recruits the skills and confidence they need to succeed in the fleet. "Battle Stations" is designed to galvanize the basic warrior attributes of sacrifice, dedication, teamwork and endurance in each recruit through the practical application of basic Navy skills and the core values of Honor, Courage and Commitment. Its distinctly "Navy" flavor was designed to take into account what it means to be a Sailor.

Harris is a 2004 graduate of Bay St. Louis High School of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Adam M. Marsh has graduated from Officer Candidate School (OCS) at Fort Benning, Columbus, Ga., and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

During the 14 weeks of training, the officer candidate received "basic soldiering" instruction in leadership, professional ethics, soldier team development, combined arms tactics, weapons defense, combat water survival, squad drill, intelligence, field training exercises, and navigation, maintenance, communications, staff and general military subjects, and physical training and conditioning.

The candidate was tested on leadership skills and team work abilities required of a commissioned officer. The student utilized acquired skills to function in "leader and follower" positions in squad and platoon sized elements in a stressful and demanding field environment.

Marsh, an infantry officer, earned honors as a distinguished leadership graduate.

He is the son of Elizabeth A. Ludwig of Bechtel Blvd., Ocean Springs, Miss., and Curtis Marsh of Van Cleave, Miss.

His wife, Liberty, is the daughter of Bob VanCourt, and Susan VanCourt, both of Pass Christian, Miss. The lieutenant is a 1992 graduate of Ocean Springs High School.

Marine Corps Pfc. Justin D. Trowbridge, brother of Jason L. Trowbridge of Bay St. Louis, Miss., recently completed 12 weeks of basic training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C. designed to challenge new Marine recruits both physically and mentally.

Trowbridge and fellow recruits began their training at 5 a. m., by running three miles and performing calisthenics. In addition to the physical conditioning program, Trowbridge spent numerous hours in classroom and field assignments which included learning first aid, uniform regulations, combat water survival, marksmanship, hand-to-hand combat and assorted weapons training. They performed close order drill and operated as a small infantry unit during field training.

Trowbridge and other recruits also received instruction on the Marine Corps' core values—honor, courage and commitment, and what the core values mean in guiding personal and professional conduct.

Trowbridge and fellow recruits ended the training phase with The Crucible, a 54-hour, team evolution culminating in an emotional ceremony in which recruits are presented the Marine Corps Emblem, and addressed as "Marines" for the first time in their careers.

Trowbridge is a 2004 graduate of Bay High School of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Air Force Airman 1st Class Michelle M. Young has graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization, and military customs and courtesies; performed drill and ceremony marches, and received physical training, rifle marksmanship, field training exercises, and special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

She is the daughter of Charles Mowry of Lozes Avenue, Lafayette, La., and Pamela Young of Eighth St., Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Young graduated in 1997 from Erath High School, La., and received a bachelor's degree in 2003 from the University of Louisiana, Lafayette.

Air Force Airman Elizabeth A. Mueller has graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization, and military customs and courtesies; performed drill and ceremony marches, and received physical training, rifle marksmanship, field training exercises, and special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

She is the daughter of Steven and Aubrey Mueller of Carroll Ave., Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Mueller is a 2004 graduate of Bay High School, Bay St. Louis.

Navy Seaman Jacob Wasvick, son of Julia Wasvick of Long Beach, Miss. and Bruce E. Wasvick of Diamondhead, Miss., is currently midway through a routine Western Pacific deployment while assigned to the amphibious assault ship USS Bonhomme Richard, homeported in San Diego.

USS Bonhomme Richard deployed as Expeditionary Strike Group Five's flagship and embarked Marines of the 15th Marine Expeditionary Unit in support of the global war on terrorism.

The primary mission of Wasvick's ship is to embark, deploy and land elements of a Marine landing force by helicopter, landing craft air cushion or amphibious assault vehicle. USS Bonhomme Richard is deploying under the Navy's new operational construct, the Fleet Response Plan.

Wasvick is a 1998 graduate of Camp Shelby High School of Hattiesburg, Miss. and joined the Navy in December 2003.

For more information on their deployment and high resolution photographs, visit the USS Bonhomme's Web site at <http://www.lhd6.navy.mil>

Army National Guard 1st Lt. Eric R. Hickman has returned to the U.S. after being deployed to Camp Bondsteel, Urosevec, Kosovo, in support of Kosovo Force (KFOR 6A). The soldier, a member of the 35th Military Police Company, was assigned to the U.S. Army contingent Multinational Brigade-East.

U.S. active duty, reserve component and national guard soldiers are part of a rotating NATO-U.S. task force which helps support the continuing peacekeeping mission after the crisis in Kosovo ceased in June 1999.

The NATO-led Kosovo Force helps maintain a safe and secure environment in the province and provides a security presence in villages, assists in resolving disputes, delivers and distributes medical equipment and supplies as part of medical humanitarian mission, and work with international aid agencies to provide support for communities.

Hickman, a platoon leader, is the son of Marsha J. Hickman, and Eric A. Hickman, both of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

His wife, Crystallyn, is the daughter of Stanley E. Hill of Jamestown, Ohio, and Connie Thompson of Jeffersonville, Ohio.

He graduated in 1991 from Greeneview High School, Jamestown, and earned a bachelor's degree in the year 2000 from Campbell University, Buies Creek, N.C.

Patrick Barnes has been selected for promotion to the rank of colonel in the U.S. Air Force.

Barnes, a national media outreach office director, is assigned in New York, N.Y.

He is the son of Jesse L. and Jeanell D. Barnes of Lang Ave., Pass Christian, Miss.

The colonel graduated in 1979 from Pass Christian High School, and received a bachelor's degree in 1983 from the University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg. In 1994, he earned a master's degree from Troy State University, Ala.

Marine Corps Pfc. Micah P. Rogers, son of Carl B. and stepson of Michelle Rogers of Bay St. Louis, Miss., recently completed basic training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C. and was promoted to his current rank.

Rogers successfully completed 12 weeks of training designed to challenge new Marine recruits both physically and mentally.

Rogers and fellow recruits began their training at 5 a. m., by running three miles and performing calisthenics. In addition to the physical conditioning program, Rogers spent numerous hours in classroom and field assignments which included learning first aid, uniform regulations, combat water survival, marksmanship, hand-to-hand combat and assorted weapons training. Rogers is a 2004 graduate of Bay High School of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Air National Guard Airman 1st Class Joshua A. Juneau has graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization, and military customs and courtesies; performed drill and ceremony marches, and received physical training, rifle marksmanship, field training exercises, and special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Juneau's parents are Burt and Lisa Juneau of Trout St., Bay St. Louis, Miss.

The airman is a 2004 graduate of Hancock High School, Kiln, Miss.

Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Anthony A.

Prudencio, son of Sherri Blake of Diamondhead, Miss., is currently midway through a routine, scheduled deployment, while assigned to the destroyer USS O'Bannon, homeported in Mayport, Fla.

Prudencio's ship deployed to the Mediterranean Sea in support of maritime security operations.

USS O'Bannon provides multi-mission offensive and defensive capabilities. The ship and crew perform anti-submarine, air and surface warfare by using the Vertical Launching System, advanced Tomahawk and anti-aircraft missiles and a multi-function phased array radar.

Prudencio is a 1991 graduate of Murphysboro High School of Murphysboro, Ill. and joined the Navy in March 1992.

Navy Seaman Recruit Justin Still, son of Diane Arguelles of Kiln, Miss., recently completed U.S. Navy basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week program, Still completed a variety of training which included classroom study and practical instruction on naval customs, first aid, firefighting, water safety and survival, and shipboard and aircraft safety. An emphasis was also placed on physical fitness.

Still is a 2004 graduate of Hancock High School of Kiln, Miss.

Army 2nd Lt. Spencer L. Niolon has graduated from the infantry officer basic course at Fort Benning, Columbus, Ga.

The four-month course is designed to instruct new lieutenants in leadership, tactical skills, and combat-related skills and tasks which concentrate on practical battlefield training.

The students learned by performing and demonstrating proficiency in practical, external evaluation, and field tactical exercises. Graduates qualify as both mechanized and light infantry platoon leaders.

He is the son of Shareen W. Schafer of Ponotol Drive, Kiln, Miss.

Niolon received an associate degree in 2001 from the University of Louisiana, Lafayette.

Navy Seaman Jacob Wasvick, son of Julia Wasvick of Long Beach, Miss. and Bruce E. Wasvick of Diamondhead, Miss., and his shipmates recently made a port visit to Jebel Ali, United Arab Emirates during a routine Western Pacific deployment while assigned to the amphibious assault ship USS Bonhomme Richard, homeported in San Diego.

USS Bonhomme Richard deployed as Expeditionary Strike Group Five's flagship and embarked Marines of the 15th Marine Expeditionary Unit in support of the global war on terrorism.

of Camp Shelby High School of Hattiesburg, Miss. and joined the Navy in December 2003.

Navy Seaman April D. Lindsey, sister of Nathan Charlton of Pass Christian, Miss., is currently in the middle of a routine scheduled deployment, while assigned to the aircraft carrier USS Carl Vinson, homeported in Bremerton, Wash.

Lindsey and more than 7,600 of her shipmates of the Carl Vinson Carrier Strike Group (CSG), deployed to the Persian Gulf in support of the global war on terrorism. The Carl Vinson CSG recently relieved the USS Harry S. Truman CSG in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom and maritime security operations.

Carriers like the Carl Vinson are deployed throughout the world to maintain U.S. presence and provide rapid response in times of crisis. They serve as a highly visible deterrent to would-be aggressors, and are equipped with the most versatile and powerful weapons and aircraft available.

Lindsey is a 2001 graduate of Ponce De Leon High School of Ponce De Leon, Fla. and joined the Navy in March 2004.

Air Force Reserve Airman 1st Class Joshua C. Ladner has graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization, and military customs and courtesies; performed drill and ceremony marches, and received physical training, rifle marksmanship, field training exercises, and special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is the son of Patches Rhode of Golf Club Drive, Diamondhead, Miss., and Ricky Ladner of Cleveland Lander Road, Pass Christian, Miss.

Marine Corps Pvt. Travis W. Morris, son of Veronica L. Morris of Waveland, Miss., recently completed 12 weeks of basic training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C. designed to challenge new Marine recruits both physically and mentally.

Morris and fellow recruits began their training at 5 a. m., by running three miles and performing calisthenics. In addition to the physical conditioning program, Morris spent numerous hours in classroom and field assignments which included learning first aid, uniform regulations, combat water survival, marksmanship, hand-to-hand combat and assorted weapons training. They performed close order drill and operated as a small infantry unit during field training.

Morris and other recruits also received instruction on the Marine Corps' core values—honor, courage and commitment, and what the core values mean in guiding personal and professional conduct.

Morris and fellow recruits ended the training phase with The Crucible, a 54-hour, team evolution culminating in an emotional ceremony in which recruits are presented the Marine Corps Emblem, and addressed as "Marines" for the first time in their careers.

Morris is a 2004 graduate of St. Stanislaus College Preparatory High School of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Saturday

8 a.m. on HALL

Movie: Muppet Treasure Island

Familiar Muppet faces and live actors bring Robert Louis Stevenson's tale of pirate treasure to the screen with music and the usual gags. Tim Curry stars as Long John Silver, and Kermit the Frog (voice of Steve Whitmire) plays Capt. Smollett. Kevin Bishop has the role of young Jim Hawkins, whose best friends are Gonzo and Rizzo the rat. Billy Connolly also stars.

7 p.m. on 49-PAX

Movie: Legend

A fairy tale in the spirit of Grimm's fables, this 1985 fantasy film casts Tim Curry as the demon of darkness, attempting to create eternal night. His plan hedges on managing to corrupt the innocence of a pure-hearted girl (Mia Sara) and killing the last two unicorns on Earth. Tom Cruise stars as the heroic forest boy, Jack, who must learn to become a warrior in order to save the guardians and the world from a dark end. David Bennent co-stars as his guide.

7 p.m. on TNN

Movie: The Big Red One

Filmmaker Samuel Fuller's uncompromising 1980 war drama boasts a typically tough performance by Lee Marvin as a platoon leader known only as "The Sergeant." He leads young officers into and through World War II combat, with a handful of soldiers remaining as others weave in and out of the group. Mark Hamill and Robert Carradine play two of those who stick around the longest.

TV Trivia

As a high-school senior, Faith Ford ("Hope & Faith") was selected as a finalist in the Teen Magazine model search.

Elizabeth Taylor ("National Velvet") danced for English Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret at age 3.

Burt Lancaster ("Barnum") was a circus performer and a player in Army theater before becoming a film actor in 1946.

Katharine Hepburn ("On Golden Pond") finally appeared at an Academy Awards ceremony — after 41 invitations — in 1974.

5 p.m. on ESPN MLB Baseball

To make room for the ESPY Awards later on, "Sunday Night Baseball" featuring the New York Yankees visiting the Boston Red Sox gets an early start. It's getting late quickly for the Yanks, whose inconsistent, lackluster play has plagued them all season despite captain Derek Jeter's best efforts. New York won only 11 of its first 30 division games; one of those losses was a 17-1 shellacking at the hands of David Ortiz and the Sox in May.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Desperate Housewives

Lynette (Felicity Huffman) clashes with another mother (guest star Sharon Lawrence) over a production of "Little Red Riding Hood" at the twins' school in "Running to Stand Still." Bree (Marcia Cross) doesn't react well to a suggestion from Rex (Steven Culp). Richard Roundtree also guest stars.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS Movie: Gleason

One comedy star becomes another as Brad Garrett plays "The Great One," Jackie Gleason, in this 2002 biography. The film recalls Gleason's vaudeville start, his creation of TV's "The Honeymooners" and his marriage to second wife Marilyn (Terry Farrell). The teleplay is by Rick Podell and Michael Preminger, who also wrote "Nothing in Common," the 1986 movie starring Gleason and Tom Hanks.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Criminal Intent

The murder of a restaurant critic, followed by the disappearance of an up-and-coming chef, lead Goren and Eames (Vincent D'Onofrio, Kathryn Erbe) to the latter's dysfunctional family, including his wife (Monica Keena) and his father-in-law (Chris Penn), also well-known in the restaurant business. A long-buried clue, that Goren unearths indicates that someone might have met a nasty end in "Death Roe."

8 p.m. and DSC MythBusters

The new episode "Shark Week Special" kicks off the channel's popular weeklong salute to our favorite ferocious fish. Hosts Jamie Hyneman and Adam Savage use the occasion to test some of the myths about sharks that were spawned by the 1975 film "Jaws."

8 p.m. and ESPN 2005 ESPY Awards

Destiny's Child, which announced recently it's splitting up, is scheduled to give one of its last performances as a group at this awards gala honoring the best in sports. Actor Matthew Perry ("Friends"), who played competitive tennis as a teen, makes his debut as host. Cyclist Lance Armstrong is up for his third straight best male athlete award, and Annika Sorenstam, who has six best female golfer awards, is nominated for best female athlete.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC Crossing Jordan

A bodyguard assigned to protect a Dominican diplomat's son is dead, and the widow takes Jordan (Jill Hennessy) and the consulate staff hostage, demanding a full investigation. As Garrett and Woody (Miguel Ferrer, Jerry O'Connell) jump on the case, Lily (Kathryn Hahn) keeps watch outside the consulate, hoping for a chance to help Jordan escape.

9 p.m. and TBS Minding the Store

If you remember comedian Pauly Shore only for his goofy movies from the 1990s — "Encino Man," "Jury Duty" and such — you'll be surprised to see how he's changed. This new unscripted series follows Shore on his day job — running his mom's legendary club, The Comedy Store. The series candidly captures not only his efforts to improve the venue's fortunes but to do the same thing for his showbiz career and love life.

10 p.m. on ESPN SportsCenter

ESPN's flagship program hits the road this summer, originating from a sporting event in a different state over each of the next 50 days. "SportsCenter Across America" begins tonight in Boston, where Chris Berman and Stuart Scott host the program from Fenway Park following the Yankees-Red Sox game. Other events visited include the Eskimo-Indian Olympics in Alaska, a balloon festival in Wyoming and a pie-eating contest in Maine.

TV Jumble

TV JUMBLE by David L. Hoyt

Use the clues to help unscramble the four Jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four words.

7-17-05

Clue: TV Detective '73-'80
NJSOE

Clue: Comedy
ROETPU

Clue: show
REVIYAT

Clue: Dillon, for example
RASLMHA

Bonus

He sure was cool in that role.
And hot in another.

Bonus Clue: This actor, who was the first male to make the cover of "McCall's" magazine, got his big break on a sitcom in 1975.

Then arrange the circled letters to form the bonus answer, as suggested by the above cartoon and bonus clue.

Answers to 7/10/05: Jumbles: FRIDAY SPECIAL FORTUNE HEATHER. Bonus: This character got his own TV show in 1980. HEATHCLIFF.

You can e-mail David L. Hoyt at DLHoyt@aol.com.

The Scholar

They've had their academic and leadership skills and their community service put under the microscope and undergone some nail-biting tests. Tonight, one of the 10 high-school seniors who started this competition wins a full scholarship to college: a $250,000 prize donated by philanthropist Eli Broad.

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

Still Standing

Next time, whoever's making up the community service projects should assign Brian (Taylor Ball) to, say, the dog pound. Instead, his service commitment involves helping out a woman (guest star Bo Derek) with a back injury. Needless to say, being that close to such an attractive woman — who cares if she's old enough to be his mom? — has Brian's hormones in overdrive. Mark Addy and Jamie Gertz also star in "Still Helping Out."

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Two and a Half Men

Alan (Jon Cryer) wants in to the male support group Charlie (Charlie Sheen) purposely has excluded him from in "Back Off, Mary Poppins." Rose (Melanie Lynskey) tries, and fails, to make Alan feel better. Some big-name guest stars — including Oscar winner Sean Penn, character actor Harry Dean Stanton and musician Elvis Costello — play other members of the group.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Las Vegas

In "When You Got to Go, You Got to Go," Ed (James Caan) is kidnapped but forbids Danny (and Mike (Josh Duhamel, James Lesure) to call the police or pay any ransom. Back at the Montecito, Mary and Delinda (Nikki Cox, Molly Sims) work together to pull off an appearance by a popular 1980s music group.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

CSI: Miami

A young murder victim is identified as an Alcohol Beverage Control operative, setting off a chain of events as Horatio (David Caruso) investigates the crime in "Legal." A man driving by the homicide scene, a trendy Miami nightclub, has an accident that reveals another slain person inside his car. Jayne Brook ("Chicago Hope") and Emilie de Ravin ("Roswell") guest star.

Medium

Zach Grenier ("Donnie Brasco") guest stars as Leonard Caldwell, a professor who specializes in communicating with the dead. Allison (Patricia Arquette) consults him about a dream she's been having in which two boys race a train and only one makes it across the track. Devalos (Miguel Sandoval) asks Allison to help him crack a case involving another youngster, who has confessed to murder, in "The Other Side of the Tracks."

Tuesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

My Wife and Kids

Jay (Tisha Campbell-Martin) envies Vanessa (Brooklyn Sudano) because of the attention she's getting from Jr. (George O. Gore II). When she tells Michael (Damon Wayans) she'd like him to be more romantic, he decides to give her what she wants so she'll get it out of her system and leave him alone. Franklin (Noah Gray-Cabey) tries to make himself look taller in "Careful What You Wish For."

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

NCIS

A female petty officer is found murdered in bed next to a dance club bartender in "Pop Life." The man tells Gibbs (Mark Harmon) and his team that she's not the woman he originally took to bed. The team questions the victim's sister (guest star Mya Harrison), who sings at a competing dance club. Sasha Alexander, Michael Weatherly and David McCallum also star.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

House

A baseball player (guest star Scott Foley) who breaks his arm is discovered to be suffering from severe bone loss. House (Hugh Laurie) suspects he's using steroids, which he denies. A urine spill that goes unnoticed by the patient's wife (guest star Meredith Monroe) solves the mystery. Robert Sean Leonard also stars in "Sports Medicine."

According to Jim

Cheryl (Courtney Thorne-Smith) wants to go to the opera, which interests Jim (Jim Belushi) about as much as having a root canal. So he enlists an elderly, widowed friend to be her "date" for the evening, but he begins to regret that decision when it appears he has more than a friendly interest in her. Kimberly Williams-Paisley and Larry Joe Campbell also star in "Take My Wife, Please."

8 p.m. on TNN

Movie: Goldfinger

The third James Bond film introduces Harold Sakata as Oddjob, who enforces his boss's orders with a razor-edged bowler hat. Goldfinger is the rich villain who, after buying up all the world's private gold, plans to bomb Fort Knox. Honor Blackman stars as Pussy Galore and Sean Connery plays Agent 007. Gert Frobe and Shirley Eaton also star.

8:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Rodney

Rodney (Rodney Carrington) thinks his much-wed mother (guest star Karen Austin) has arrived to tell him that she's bailing out on yet another marriage in "Rodney's Mom."

In fact, she has a different reason for visiting — and Rodney is stunned when he learns it. Daytime-serial staple Ron Hale ("General Hospital") also guest stars.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Special Victims Unit

"Night" begins a crossover story with "Law & Order: Trial by Jury." A man (guest star Alfred Molina) from a wealthy family is Benson and Stabler's (Mariska Hargitay, Chris Meloni) prime suspect in a series of rapes. The evidence, however, is sketchy, thanks in part to his mother (guest star Angela Lansbury), who has been covering for him. Bebe Neuwirth appears as Tracey Kibre from "Trial by Jury."

9 p.m. on 18-PBS

P.O.V.

The new documentary "The Brooklyn Connection" tells the thought-provoking story of Florin Krasniqi, an Albanian from Kosovo with a successful business in the United States. He took advantage of his adopted homeland's liberal gun laws to outfit a guerrilla army in Kosovo to fight for the Albanian majority against the ruling Serbs. His tale is sure to spark some debate on the difference between a terrorist and a freedom fighter.

9:30 p.m. on HBO

Pretty Things

Filmmaker Liz Goldwyn, a burlesque buff, takes some lessons from legends of the racy dance genre in this new documentary. One of them, Gussie Gross, 86, recalls an unlikely entry into burlesque; her husband was a vice cop who asked her to use her sewing skills to cover up the dancers he was busting. At the film's end, Goldwyn uses what she's learned from the women to do her own burlesque routine at a Los Angeles theater.

Courtney Thorne-Smith and Jim Belushi

Wednesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX
So You Think You Can Dance

This new series hopes to do for dancing what "American Idol" did for singing. In fact, it's from the creators of "Idol," with a little help from their friends at the American Music Awards and "American Bandstand." Over 12 weeks, contestants vie for the title of "America's best undiscovered dancing talent." Lauren Sanchez (Fox)

Sports News Tonight") hosts the action.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Supernanny

In "Collins Family (U.K. Family)," Jo Frost is back in her homeland to whip a British household into shape. The Collinses have four unruly kids, two of whom have vowed to prove that Frost's methods won't work on them. She sets out to prove them wrong, but her zero-tolerance disciplinary style brings tears ... from the parents.

7 p.m. on 19-PBS
American Masters

The new episode "Bob Newhart: Unbuttoned" profiles the former accountant who mined his nervous stammer and deadpan demeanor for comedy gold. His 1960 album "The Button-Down Mind of Bob Newhart" won a best new artist Grammy and led to a long career in stand-up and two hit sitcoms, in which he played the straight man to a host of crazy characters. He recently showed he can do drama as well, earning an Emmy nomination for a guest spot on "ER."

8 p.m. on 4-CBS
The King of Queens

Doug (Kevin James) decides not to take a test for work that could get him promoted. Carrie (Leah Remini) gets upset with him for this, and he gets back at her by taking a job as a bartender. Later, he decides to go ahead and take the test, but now Carrie wants him to stay behind the bar because the tips are so good. Jerry Stiller also stars in "Pour Judgment."

8 p.m. on 54-UPN
Veronica Mars

A teacher at Veronica's (Kristen Bell) school is accused of sexual harassment. He's her favorite teacher, in fact, which means she and her father (Enrico Colantoni), who's representing his accuser, are on opposite sides. Veronica tries to help Logan (Jason Doherty) get to the truth about his mom, Percy Daggs III and Francis Capra also star in "Mars vs. Mars."

Shannon's (Maggie Grace) asthma attack prompts Jack and Sayid (Matthew Fox, Naveen Andrews) to consider using brute force to get needed medicine away from Sawyer (Josh Holloway) in "Confidence Man." Kate (Evangeline Lilly) is troubled by what she learns about Sawyer. Sun (Yunjin Kim) debates whether to observe Jin's (Daniel Dae Kim) demand for her to mind her own business.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS
CSI: NY

In "Night, Mother," a sleepwalking woman is found next to a murder victim. She's covered in blood and has what appears to be the weapon used in the slaying — a wooden stake — by her side. Looks like an easy one, doesn't it? Not to Mac (Gary Sinise), who knows you can't always judge a crime by its circumstantial evidence.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC
Law & Order

"Tombstone" begins a story that concludes on "Law & Order: Trial by Jury." Fontana and Green (Dennis Farina, Jesse L. Martin) investigate the murder of a lawyer who was rather generous with her sexual favors. One co-worker (guest star Paul Fitzgerald) becomes their prime suspect because he was in the office at the time. McCoy (Sam Waterston) must take drastic action after the evidence is thrown out and a new crime is committed.

9 p.m. on FAM
Venus and Serena: For Real

The Williams sisters are the latest celebrities to offer viewers a glimpse into their personal lives via television. This new unscripted series follows the tennis stars off the court to observe them interacting with family members and friends and pursuing interests outside tennis.

Thursday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

That '70s Show

Eric (Topher Grace) discovers he needs a physical-education credit to graduate. He signs up for a summer gym class but gets nervous when he finds out who the coach is: Kelso's (Ashton Kutcher) brother, Casey (guest star Luke Wilson). Kelso and Foz (Wilmer Valderrama) battle over who gets the big room in their new apartment in "2120 So. Michigan Ave."

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Joey

Kelly Preston guest stars as the person Joey (Matt LeBlanc) had a major crush on in high school in Part 1 of "Joey and the Dream Girl." In the process of getting divorced, she visits Gina (Drea de Matteo) — which Joey takes as a cue to make a move on her. Michael (Paulo Costanzo) rediscovers his aptitude for baseball.

7 p.m. and TNT

Movie: Twister

Even though the plot contains holes big enough to shoo a monster cyclone through, don't miss the terrifying and often sublime computer-generated storms in this 1996 thriller about teams of tornado chasers who vie for groundbreaking information on the violent storms. Helen Hunt and Bill Paxton are appealing in the lead roles. Cary Elwes also stars.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

The O.C.

Linda Lavin reprises the role of Nana Cohen in "Return of the Nana." While in Florida visiting her, Seth and Ryan (Adam Brody, Ben McKenzie) meet a woman who gets Seth a gig on a music video channel's spring break special. Recording artist T.I. ("Bring 'Em Out") guest stars and performs. Jamie King and Bret Harrison also guest star.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

Without a Trace

A single mother vanishes after leaving her 3-year-old son with a baby sitter in Part 1 of "Nickel and Dimed." The woman's secretive past makes her an enigma at first to Jack (Anthony LaPaglia) and his team, but as pieces fall into place, they learn she came into a sudden windfall and had doubts about her employer — so foul play is a possibility.

Bridget (Kaley Cuoco) is excited to discover that scouts from Princeton are coming to one of her tennis matches. If they like what they see, she may be offered a scholarship to the prestigious university. But there's a problem: a poor grade that will keep her out of the game. Cate (Kaley Sagal) considers using her position as school nurse to bend the rules in "Princetown Girl."

The six-part series concludes with the new episode "Ghost Dance." Indian agent Daniel Royer (David Paymer) fears that a Lakota uprising is imminent and calls for military aid, which culminates in the bloody battle at Wounded Knee. Disturbed at the press's portrayal of her people, Margaret (Irene Bedard) begins taking photos of the reservation and captures the massacre on film. Craig Sheffer, John Terry and Sheila Tousey also star.

Law & Order: Trial by Jury

The story of a serial rapist (guest star Alfred Molina) that began on "Law & Order: Special Victims Unit" concludes with "Day." Kibre's (Bebe Neuwirth) prosecution — already hampered by the man's protective mother (guest star Angela Lansbury) and intimidated witnesses — is dealt another blow when some key DNA evidence is thrown out. Mariska Hargitay and Chris Meloni also guest star.

In Focus

Before the August premiere of the Showtime series it's yielding, the 2002 comedy movie "Barbershop" - starring Ice Cube as the new owner of a Chicago haircutting business - makes its network-television debut Friday, July 22, on Fox. Initially, the man doesn't want the shop, which he's inherited from his father. As he gets to know the staff and clientele, his view changes. The boisterous film also features Anthony Anderson, Cedric the Entertainer and singer-actress Eve.

A distinctively low-key comedy icon gets a salute from the PBS series "American Masters" with the new episode "Bob Newhart: Unbuttoned" Wednesday, July 20. The 90-minute program recalls how a Grammy-winning, recording made Newhart one of the hottest tickets in humor in the early 1960s. Several television series later, his career is still going strong, as proven by the guest appearances he made last season on the hit "Desperate Housewives."

Saturday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: Notting Hill

Glamorous movie star Anna Scott (Julia Roberts) savors the opportunity to live the life of an ordinary person when she hooks up with William, a mild-mannered London bookseller (Hugh Grant). Their different backgrounds make the road to romance rocky at first — especially when her Hollywood boyfriend (Alec Baldwin) shows up — but don't rule out the possibility of love conquering all in this bittersweet 1999 romance.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

NCIS

A Marine major's wife gets a call from her husband — who everyone thought was dead. Gibbs (Mark Harmon) and his team investigate to determine whether he's really alive or someone's playing a joke. They find out that someone doesn't want the truth to come out because the major and his partner were on a secret mission. David McCallum and Pauley Perrette also star in "Marine Down."

8 p.m. and HALL

Movie: Back to You and Me

A successful city doctor (Lisa Hartman Black) returns to her small hometown for her 20th high-school reunion. While there, she clashes with her estranged mother (Rue McClanahan), but learns a secret that has her rethinking her resentment of Mom. She also reconnects with an old high-school flame (Dale Midkiff) whose son is ailing. Black's husband, country star Clint, has three songs on the soundtrack of this new drama.

9 p.m. on TNT

Movie: The Color Purple

Steven Spielberg directed this adaptation of Alice Walker's Pulitzer Prize-winning novel about an abused wife (Whoopi Goldberg) who finds love from an unlikely source — her husband's mistress — and hope from her sister's incredible journey. Oprah Winfrey made her film debut in this 1985 drama, which surprisingly failed to impress the Academy as much as the book did the Pulitzer board.

Julia Roberts and Hugh Grant
